COURSE DESCRIPTION
Builds on concepts covered in management and cost accounting courses. Integrates relevant issues from other functional areas: strategic uses of cost management, budgeting, and performance evaluation systems in managerial planning and control.

PREREQUISITES
BUSI 3008 with a grade of C- or higher.
The School of Business enforces all prerequisites.

COURSE OVERVIEW
This course focuses on managerial planning and control systems using the case method. It extends the concepts covered in the intermediate management accounting course and also integrates relevant contextual issues from other functional areas of organizations. The design of budgeting, cost management, performance measurement, performance evaluation, and reward systems, as well as, governance and ethical issues, are examined. Emphasis is placed on the need for different control techniques and systems in different types of organizations and for balanced integrated systems, comprising both financial and nonfinancial controls and measures.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. Understand advanced management control concepts, techniques, and practices applicable to private, non-profit, and public organizations.
2. Identify management control problems related to cost management, budgeting, performance measurement, performance evaluation, and reward systems, as well as, governance and ethics, in private, non-profit, and public organizations.
3. Identify and apply appropriate management control techniques to remedy management control problems in private, non-profit, and public organizations.
4. Analyze and evaluate an organization’s management control systems and practices, considering relevant organizational and environmental factors.
5. Based on analyses conducted, recommend appropriate managerial actions and improvements to management control systems.
6. Write well researched and justified professional reports.
7. Present the results and arguments in an effective manner and defend recommended courses of actions.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK

Additional required readings, as listed on cuLearn.

TEACHING METHODOLOGY

Teaching methodology for this course encompasses assigned readings, case analyses, case presentations and discussions in class, and a group project. Students are expected to read the assigned chapter(s), to discuss the assigned cases in groups before each class, and to prepare written analyses and presentations of selected cases. The cases are then discussed in class to highlight and clarify key concepts. Students, working in groups, also apply these concepts to an actual organization of their choice.

The primary role of the instructor in this course is to facilitate student learning by helping students understand and apply key concepts and by providing them with regular feedback on their progress. It should be emphasized that diligent independent preparation of cases before class and active participation in class discussions are crucial to the development of effective problem-solving skills in this field and to perform well in the course.

EVALUATION METHODS

Class Preparation/Participation – Individual 10%
Project Proposal – Group 5%
Case Report – Group 10%
Presentation Case – Group (individual dates, as assigned) 10%
Project Report/Presentation – Group (15% / 5%) 20%
Final Exam Case – Individual (formally scheduled time) 45%
Total 100%

Class Preparation/Participation. Up to 5 marks can be earned by answering a case-related discussion forum question in advance of the class in which the case is discussed (1 mark per reasonable answer). These answers are reviewed in class only in the overall case analysis context, but students will be able to see the postings by other students to each case after completing their own postings. The remaining 5 marks can be earned by actively participating in periodic class activities or exercises, conducted in small groups, which may require brief written answers to be handed in. These activity outcomes are debriefed in class but handed-in work is not returned to students. Please keep a copy for your records. There is no makeup of class preparation/participation marks lost for any reason.

Case Report. Case reports should be 5 - 6 pages in length, double-spaced, excluding major tables, exhibits, appendices, and preliminary matter, and be professional in style and format. They should provide well justified recommendations to address the stated or other evident problems in the case, taking into account environmental factors affecting the organization. For good reports, some additional research beyond the case facts, e.g., related to industry, competition, products, etc., is expected. Each group member must also sign a declaration of academic integrity and attach a copy to the report handed in. Additional case information and case analysis and report guidelines will be posted on cuLearn.

Case Presentation. Case presentations should be between 15 - 20 minutes. They should contain the highlights of the case analysis in an organized manner. All group members should participate in the presentations. You may organize your presentation using one of the following formats: 1) management consultants presenting to upper management; 2) upper management presenting to the Board of Directors; 3) key stakeholders engaged in a role play, e.g., at management or board meeting; 4) debate between opposing individuals or groups on key issues. Another group will be assigned to critique each presentation, and presentations are evaluated by all other groups. Additional presentation guidelines will be posted on cuLearn.

Project Proposal/Report/Presentation. Project reports are comprehensive written reports of management control issues of a selected organization, completed in groups. The reports should be 12 - 15 pages in length, double-spaced, excluding major tables, exhibits, appendices, and preliminary matter, and be professional in style and format. Select an organization from any field, e.g., manufacturing, merchandising, service, non-profit, or government, ideally with which at least one group member is familiar or for which relevant information is publicly available. In writing the final report, assume the role of independent management consultants. The reports are evaluated for both content and style. In brief presentations to the class (maximum of 15 minutes each), each group provides an overview of their project. Each group member must also sign a declaration of academic integrity and attach a copy to the report handed in. Additional report guidelines will be posted on cuLearn.

First, prepare a one-page written project proposal for approval by the professor, indicating:

1) Name and approximate size of company (e.g., number of employees)
2) Any personal contacts group members may have with the company
3) Type of relevant information available (e.g., financial and/or nonfinancial data)
4) How you plan to access this information (e.g., public data and/or internal data).

Final Exam Case. The final exam case is a comprehensive case requiring a significant degree of application and integration of the material covered in the entire course, including class presentations. Three hours are allowed for the completion of the case. A minimum mark of 45 percent must be obtained on the final case exam in order to pass the course.

EVALUATION AND GRADING POLICY

No make-up assignments are available for any term work (participation, assignments, presentations, and reports) missed for any reason. Providing that a student has demonstrated satisfactory in-term performance, as described below, the weight of a major component missed for documented medical reasons (but not class participation) may be transferred to the final case examination.

The criteria and standards for satisfactory in-term performance for this course are as follow:
(a) Completion of at least 50% of all term work, and
(b) Achievement of the minimum average grade of 50% on all term work.

Unsatisfactory in-term performance in this course, described above in (a) and (b), will lead to:

(a) Failure in this course (regardless of performance on the final exam or project) Yes ☑ No ☐
(b) FND grade in this course (in case of missed final exam or project) Yes ☑ No ☐

Each group member must complete and hand in a confidential peer evaluation (form available on cuLearn) for each member of his/her group, covering all group work. Unless specifically otherwise documented, the assumption is that each student has contributed equally to all group work in this course (including the case and project). In cases of significantly different evaluations for a group member, the professor may contact the group members for additional information or request a meeting with all group members in order to ensure a fair allocation of group marks.

Each group member must also sign a declaration of academic integrity (form available on cuLearn) and attach a copy to each report handed in for grading.

Note: Please keep a hard copy of all your submitted work for your records.

Course Sharing Websites
Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s).

Required calculator in BUSI course examinations
If you are purchasing a calculator, we recommend any one of the following options: Texas Instruments BA II Plus (including Pro Model), Hewlett Packard HP 12C (including Platinum model), Staples Financial Calculator, Sharp EL-738C & Hewlett Packard HP 10bII.

Group work
The Sprott School of Business encourages group assignments in the school for several reasons. They provide you with opportunities to develop and enhance interpersonal, communication, leadership, follower-ship and other group skills. Group assignments are also good for learning integrative skills for putting together a complex task. Your professor may assign one or more group tasks/assignments/projects in this course. Before embarking on a specific problem as a group, it is your responsibility to ensure that the problem is meant to be a group assignment and not an individual one.

In accordance with the Carleton University Undergraduate Calendar (p 34), the letter grades assigned in this course will have the following percentage equivalents:

- A+ = 90-100
- B+ = 77-79
- C+ = 67-69
- D+ = 57-59
- A = 85-89
- B = 73-76
- C = 63-66
- D = 53-56
- A- = 80-84
- B- = 70-72
- C- = 60-62
- D- = 50-52
- F = Below 50
- WDN = Withdrawn from the course
- ABS = Student absent from final exam
- DEF = Deferred (See above)
- FND = (Failed, no Deferred) = Student could not pass the course even with 100% on final exam

Academic Regulations, Accommodations, Etc.
University rules regarding registration, withdrawal, appealing marks, and most anything else you might need to know can be found on the university’s website, here:
http://calendar.carleton.ca/undergrad/regulations/academicregulationsoftheuniversity/

Requests for Academic Accommodations

For Students with Disabilities:
The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. The deadlines for contacting the Paul Menton Centre regarding accommodation for final exams for the December 2015 exam period is November 6, 2015 and for the April 2016 exam period is March 6, 2016.

For Religious Obligations:
Students requesting academic accommodation on the basis of religious obligation should make a formal, written request to their instructors for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory event.

Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student.

Students or instructors who have questions or want to confirm accommodation eligibility of a religious event or practice may refer to the Equity Services website for a list of holy days and Carleton's Academic Accommodation policies, or may contact an Equity Services Advisor in the Equity Services Department for assistance.

For Pregnancy:
Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. The student must then make an appointment to discuss her needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Academic Integrity
Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another’s ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized cooperation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include; a grade of Failure in the submitted work and/or course; academic probation; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; suspension from full-time studies; suspension from all studies at Carleton; expulsion from Carleton, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at: http://www2.carleton.ca/sasc/advisingcentre/academic-integrity/.

Sprott Student Services
The Sprott student services office, located in 710 Dunton Tower, offers academic advising, study skills advising, and overall academic success support. If you’re having a difficult time with this course or others, or just need some guidance on how to successfully complete your Sprott degree, please drop in any weekday between 8:30am and 4:30pm. Our advisors are happy to discuss grades, course selection, tutoring, concentrations, and will ensure that you get connected with the resources you need to succeed!
