BUSI 3700 – B  CROSS-CULTURAL COMMUNICATION

Term:    Spring – Fall 2016
Instructor:  Virginia Taylor
Contact:  Virginia.taylor@carleton.ca
Virtual Office Hours:  by email
Course Delivery:  cuLearn
Prerequisite(s):  restricted to Business students who are participating in an academic exchange of at least one semester.

UNDERGRADUATE CALENDAR DESCRIPTION

Cross-cultural Communication
Principles of communication across cultural boundaries are applied to both interpersonal and commercial interactions. Critical incidents and commentary are analyzed. Students submit periodic reports, evaluated by the instructor at Carleton.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course supports the development of intercultural competencies for students enrolled in the Bachelor of International Business program. The course is offered entirely online over a period of 9 months. During the year, you will be engaged in individual and group activities that will allow you to learn more about intercultural communication and practice a way of thinking, acting and being while living and studying in a diverse community.

More specifically, the learning objectives of the course are:

- Develop intercultural competence through a process of critical, reflective thinking and action;
- Explore the influence of culture through the examination of everyday activities and interactions with others;
- Explore how experiences shape cultural identity;
- Develop effective communication skills through interaction with others in the host country and through group work; and Develop a basic understanding of ethnography through application of basic ethnographic tools and the completion of an independent research project

COURSE DESIGN

While living and studying abroad, you will have the opportunity to interact in a broad range of activities, both formal and informal, that provide you with the unique opportunity to examine culture from the inside out. This experience also provides you with an opportunity to engage in critical, reflective thinking and action as you navigate through complex and challenging interactions with others. This course is designed to provide you with the necessary framework to support the learning objectives and to provide you with an opportunity to interact with other BIBers as you complete a range of learning activities in an online learning environment.

The key assumption driving the design of this course is that the development of intercultural understanding comes from awareness of self and ‘others’, through experience, and through critical reflection. To this end, we will focus on the following:

- Sharing experiences: time will be spent sharing observations and experiences across the different cultural environments so that we might all benefit from the interactions. It is expected that everyone will contribute to the dialogues with the understanding that some topics may relate more or less to your personal experience.

- Interaction with others: activities and assignments are designed to foster interaction with ‘others’, to encourage you to practice your language skills and to listen to ‘others’ so that you might understand the situation from an insider’s perspective. This can be demanding for some of you as you transition into a new culture; hence, the activities at the beginning of the course allow you to spend more time observing without direct contact.

- Creating a learning community: to be effective interculturalists, we must be open to new ideas, experiences and points of view. We must examine issues using a different frame of reference. We must be willing to listen. We must be willing to take risks and yes, make mistakes and then learn from these mistakes. This will require a supportive learning environment that is characterized by mutual respect, curiosity and engagement.

Over the course of the next eight months, you will have a chance to participate in a variety of learning activities including group discussions, independent and group activities, online lectures, and an independent research project. It is expected that you will review the requirements of each unit in a timely manner (as close to the release date and time as possible), review the course materials, come to the discussion groups prepared to interact, and above all, ask questions if you are confused. Given that the course is offered over an 8 month period, there will be occasions where there is no scheduled unit in order to provide you with additional time to explore, observe, and interact in your host culture.

REQUIRED READING

All readings are available through cuLEARN. Students are required to review these before completing activities/assignments. A Reading Schedule for each term is posted on cuLEARN.
COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Unit Activities (total 40%)

Over the course of the year, you will be expected to complete activities for multiple units. These activities are designed to give you an opportunity to interact with members of your host culture, develop an appreciation for cross-cultural communication issues, ethnographic data collection methods and provide a rich learning environment for others in this course as you share text and visuals of your experiences.

The activities are spread out over the first section of the course and include:

March – May 2016
- The Sojourn Experience (10%)
- Communication 1 (15%)
- Communication 2 (15%)

Group Project (20%)

In October 2016, you will be required to complete a group project with other students in a virtual environment. Each group will be examining one topic within the broader context of business while individuals will be drawing on personal experiences in their host country.

Independent Research Project (40%)

You will be required to complete an ethnographic research project that you will be working on until the end of the course. The purpose of this project is for you to participate actively in intercultural research while also gaining an appreciation for ethnography and its application to business. Using the required readings as a framework for the project, you will need to identify a ‘site’ in your host country for the project.

GRADING

Completion of all course components is required and the final grade will be stated as a letter grade (see Additional Information section).
Students can access information about their grades on any assignment throughout the year by accessing the grade book on the BUSI 3700B course page in cuLEARN.

 students are required to keep a hard copy of any assignment submitted online. There may be occasions where the assignment is not received by the Instructor due to technical problems.

 students are responsible for following the calendar and submitting assignments on time. As this is a course offered across many time zones, EST (Ottawa time) will be used as a reference point. This means that assignments will be accepted up to midnight EST on the scheduled date.

 cuLearn provides confirmation of assignment submissions, but it is the final responsibility of the student to ensure that the instructor has received the assignment.

LATE ASSIGNMENTS

Late assignments will be marked down by one-half letter grade (e.g. B to B-) for each day the assignment is late, unless approved notice of issue is sent to Instructor 48 hours prior to due date or supporting documentation is provided (i.e. a medical note). Assignments submitted late must still be handed in within 6 days of the due date, failing which they will receive a grade of F.

TECHNOLOGY

Students will have access to all course materials and assignments through cuLEARN (www.carleton.ca). Should you need support with cuLEARN, you should review information on the Carleton website: Student Support for cuLEARN.

Any unresolved questions can be answered by Carleton’s Computing Services (CCS) ccs_service_desk@carleton.ca; Tel: 613-520-3700.

The work will ideally correspond with your experiences as a sojourner including transition in and out of the host culture, adjustment to new experiences, and interaction with others. Students should check the dates on cuLearn for all units, review the academic dates for their host university, and notify the instructor immediately of any conflicts with the schedule.

GROUP PARTICIPATION
Where numbers warrant, students may be assigned to a group to facilitate discussion and team work. Each member’s contribution to the group is vital. Participation in the group means:
- Joining in the group discussions scheduled for each module (on line and on task).
- Offering a question, answer, information, or opinion that helps others to explore the situations and issues presented.
- Listening carefully to others in the group, eliciting the opinions and knowledge of other students, and helping each person feel comfortable as they contribute.
While students may be working in pre-determined groups, every effort will be made to ensure students have a chance to talk across cultures and share information and experiences throughout the year. If you have a group assignment, you may find the information about group work on the Sprott website useful.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Course Sharing Websites

Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s).

- C- = 60-62
- D- = 50-52

F = Below 50
WDN = Withdrawn from the course
ABS = Student absent from final exam
DEF = Deferred (See above)
FND = (Failed, no Deferred) = Student could not pass the course even with 100% on final exam

Academic Regulations, Accommodations, Plagiarism, Etc.

University rules regarding registration, withdrawal, appealing marks, and most anything else you might need to know can be found on the university’s website, here: http://calendar.carleton.ca/undergrad/regulations/academicregulationsoftheuniversity/

Requests for Academic Accommodations

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable). The deadlines for contacting the Paul Menton Centre regarding accommodation for final exams for the December 2016 exam period is November 6, 2016 and for the April 2016 exam period is March 6, 2016.

For Religious Obligations

Students requesting academic accommodation on the basis of religious obligation should make a formal, written request to their instructors for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory event.

Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student.

Students or instructors who have questions or want to confirm accommodation eligibility of a religious event or practice may refer to the Equity Services website for a list of holy days and Carleton’s Academic Accommodation policies, or may contact an Equity Services Advisor in the Equity Services Department for assistance.

For Pregnancy:

Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. The student must then make an appointment to discuss her needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another’s ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized co-operation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include expulsion; suspension from all studies at Carleton; suspension from full-time studies; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; academic probation; and a grade of Failure in the course, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at http://www2.carleton.ca/sasc/advisingcentre/academic-integrity/
