UNIVERSITY CALENDAR COURSE DESCRIPTION

An introduction to the principles and practices of international business. Topics include the impact of culture and the political, economic, and legal systems on global strategy, international institutions, theories of cross- border trade, and the characteristics and effects of regional trade blocs.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

As an introduction to the broad field of international business this course will particularly focus on the principles and practices of international business. A wide range of international business topics will be covered including: theories of international trade and investment, characteristics of international business environments and the impacts of culture and the political, economic, ethical and legal systems on global corporate strategy as well as the influence of international institutions, the characteristics and effects of regional trade blocs and managerial functions in an international context.

Specifically, the aims of this course are four-fold:

- (a) First, the course will provide the student with a broad and systematic overview of international business field by introducing the student to basic theoretical, conceptual, empirical and methodological traditions that underpin the context, operation and flow of international business. This discussion includes the conduct of international trade, the institutions and agreements that provide structure for global commerce and the organizations, both large and small, which facilitate international business. This material is meant to provide an integrated framework that allows the student to understand various aspects of international business and managerial functions not as individual facts but as parts of a systematic whole. This provides a basis for more advanced courses that address specific aspects of international business and international management.
- (b) The second objective of the course is to heighten students' awareness of current issues in the field and how they are related to the theories and practices on international business. Awareness by international business managers of current issues is crucial because every country has to address concerns with international trade and foreign investment. While many of these issues persist over time, their importance varies in unpredictable ways with profound implications for management. As such, international business students (prospective managers) require an understanding not only of basic principles but of how global forces, events and trends impact on countries, businesses and individuals on a daily basis. Discussion in class, informal quizzes and country analyses will highlight these issues.
- (c) The third objective of the course is to enhance the student's individual and group oriented learning tools and skills, including research, analytical, critical thinking and team work skills necessary to comprehend, evaluate, critique, synthesize and present complex material/issues in the international business field.

- (d) The fourth aim of the course is to enhance/refine students' communication skills. Success in university and in the student's later career will depend largely on their ability to communicate ideas clearly and convincingly. Facility in communication goes beyond being able to read and write clearly. The capacity to reason systematically, to analyze complex issues and to evaluate and integrate information from multiple sources is the basis for effective communication.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- (a) Identify and critically analyze the main aspects of globalization and their relationship with and implications for the contemporary international business environment; and how national, regional and global environmental factors (political, socio-cultural, economic, legal, technological and ecological) affect/influence/shape the processes and outcomes of international business.
- (b) Articulate and apply the main theories and models of international trade and investment.
- (c) Understand the nature of business organizations (e.g., multinational firms) including their key strengths and weaknesses and the sources of such attributes, their role in the conduct of international trade and investment, and the different modes they engage with diverse international markets.
- (d) Appreciate how business firms are managed and the various strategies and key decisions managers make in their bid to effectively compete in the highly dynamic and complex global business environment.
- (e) Design and conduct – individual and in team-based -- international business research that is buttressed by well-grounded theoretical, empirical and practical insights; as well as demonstrate an adeptness at accessing, utilizing and deploying electronic and non-digital sources of information/data for international business research.
- (f) Communicate effectively – orally and in written form; including the writing of professional correspondence and project reports, and oral presentation of research assignments/results.
- (g) Demonstrate a clear understanding and acquisition of effective individual and team skills necessary in today's academic and work/career environments.

COURSE STRUCTURE AND DELIVERY

Meeting on scheduled days/dates in 2 one-hour and a half lecture sessions per week and weekly one-hour tutorials this course will be structured on a lecture format and tutorials around five (5) broad activities:

(a) Class Engagement

Students are expected to be actively engaged in all lecture and tutorial sessions. Students will in each tutorial session critically examine and discuss the assigned readings and issues. In fact, each lecture and tutorial session will begin by engaging students in a discussion of the key readings and a recap of the previous session's material. All participants will be expected to take an active role in discussions. As such, each participant will be expected to have read all the required readings and be prepared to discuss the assigned readings and issues raised in the readings and class discussion. And, most importantly, class participation is predicated on the premise that class attendance for each and every student is mandatory throughout the semester.

(b) Individual Assignment

Each student will hand in a written analysis on one chapter-based assignment (case study, management focus or country focus) from the textbook as randomly assigned on Sessions 1 and 2 of the semester. Individual written reports (in both hard and soft copy versions) will be due during the respective session a student is assigned. Assignment selections will close on Week Four of the semester. Assignment guidelines and a schedule of individual case allotments will be posted on cuLearn.

(c) Mid-term Test (in-class).

Students will be required to sit an in-class mid-term test on the scheduled date (Session 7: October 20th, 2017; there will be no tutorial class on this date).

(d) Final Exam

Students will be required to sit a written formal final examination as scheduled by the university.

(e) Term Group Project:

Course participants will be required to take part in a group-based project. This assignment, to be undertaken in four phases/stages, will entail an in-depth assessment of a multi-national corporation/enterprise (MNC/MNE) to determine its key strengths and weaknesses in the context of the global economy. Each group will prepare a written report for each phase of the project. Moreover, each group will also participate in an in-class oral presentation of their term project on a scheduled date. The detailed requirements of this project – specified in a set of guidelines and marking rubrics -- are provided separately on cuLearn.

TEXT BOOK AND OTHER RESOURCES

The following textbook and course companion are required for this course:

- (1) Hill, Charles W. and Thomas McKaig (2015) Global Business Today, 4th Canadian edition, McGraw-Hill Ryerson.

- (2) Suder, Gabriele (2009) International Business, Thousand Oaks, CA, SAGE Publications Inc.

In addition to the textbook and the course companion, key/required readings are assigned from other sources (e.g., periodicals, etc.) as deemed appropriate. Moreover, throughout the semester/course students will be encouraged to read the current business press with a keen eye on thought provoking topics on international business. Supplementary readings will be posted separately on cuLearn.

Academic Regulations, Accommodations, Etc.

University rules regarding registration, withdrawal, appealing marks, and most anything else you might need to know can be found on the university's website, here:

<http://calendar.carleton.ca/undergrad/regulations/academicregulationsoftheuniversity/>

Requests for Academic Accommodations

For Students with Disabilities:

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). Requests made within two weeks will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website (www.carleton.ca/pmc) for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

For Religious Obligations:

Students requesting academic accommodation on the basis of religious obligation should make a formal, written request to their instructors for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory event.

Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student.

Students and instructors can confirm accommodation eligibility of a religious event or practice by referring to the Equity Services website (<http://carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/religious-observances/>) for a list of holy days and Carleton's Academic Accommodation policies. If there are any questions on the part of the student or instructor, they can be directed to an Equity Services Advisor in the Equity Services Department for assistance.

For Pregnancy:

Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. The student must then make an appointment to discuss her needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another's ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized co-operation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include; a grade of Failure on the submitted work and/or course; academic probation; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; suspension from full-time studies; suspension from all studies at Carleton; expulsion from Carleton, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at: <http://carleton.ca/studentaffairs/academic-integrity>.
