Course Outline

	Participating in class activities is not assessed in this course but is essential for the individual's and collective learning experience and so is highly encouraged. Participation can be in the form of discussing issues and questions raised by the instructor or classmates, generating ideas related to the readings, responding to others' ideas constructively (that could mean respectfully disagreeing and explaining why), questioning, keeping discussion flow, commenting, and building on others' contributions. For the sake of positive participation, it is recommended to study the readings before class. Practice Questions In order to prepare for the quizzes, midterm, and final exams, the instructor will post practice questions along with their solutions at the end of each class. Students are not required to submit their solutions and there is no grade assigned to this activity. Students are encouraged to discuss the practice questions, if they need any clarifications, with the instructor or TA during office hours or by email. Quizzes The objective of the quizzes is to encourage studying the course material on a regular basis. They also act in lieu of a midterm exam. The topics covered in the quizzes will not be covered in the final exam. There will be three quizzes to be done in class as indicated in the course schedule. Solutions of a quiz will be posted on CU Learn after the quiz is taken. There will be no makeup offered for missing a quiz. Final Exam The exam will be closed book and closed notes. The final exam will be non-cumulative focusing only on the topics taught past the midterm exam. Both quantitative and qualitative questions can be expected. The date, time, and location of the final exam will be announced by the university. The scheduling office will determine the student's eligibility for a deferred final examination. However, students who do not obtain at least 50% average on their term work for the course (i.e. mid-term, attendance and quizzes combined) may be refused by the instructor the privilege of a deferred final examination. In such case, a FND grade will be assigned to the student. Students are advised that exam papers will not be returned back to them after being marked. They will be available for consultation only at the instructor's office during office hours.

Group assignments are also good for learning integrative skills for putting together a complex task. Your professor may assign one or more group tasks/assignments/projects in this course. Before embarking on a specific problem as a group, it is your responsibility to ensure that the problem is meant to be a group assignment and not an individual one.

Requests for Academic Accommodations

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). Requests made within two weeks will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website (www.carleton.ca/pmc) for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

Course Outline

For Religious Obligations:

Students requesting academic accommodation on the basis of religious obligation should make a formal, written request to their instructors for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory event.

Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student.

Students or instructors who have questions or want to confirm accommodation eligibility of a religious event or practice may refer to the Equity Services website for a list of holy days and Carleton's Academic Accommodation policies, or may contact an Equity Services Advisor in the Equity Services Department for assistance.

For Pregnancy:

Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. The student must then make an appointment to discuss her needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another's ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized co-operation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include; a grade of Failure in the submitted work and/or course; academic probation; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; suspension from full-time studies; suspension from all studies at Carleton; expulsion from Carleton, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at:
