

BUSI 2504 A BUSINESS FINANCE I SUMMER 2019 (MAY & JUNE)

Instructor: Michael Reynolds Office: 1009A DT Mondays & Wednesdays: 10am to 11:00am 1:00pm to 2:00pm

CLASS SCHEDULES*:

Monday & Wednesdays 11::35am – 2:25pm

Classroom: SA 304

CLASS SCHEDULES*: Undergraduate Calendar Description

Business firms' financing, capital investment, and dividend policy decisions, cost of capital and short-term asset management problems.

Prerequisites

ECON 1000 or ECOR 3800, BUSI 1005. Restricted to selected Sprott programs. Precludes additional credit for BUSI 2503. The School of Business enforces all prerequisites.

This course is a prerequisite to BUSI 2002, BUSI 2505 & BUSI 2506

Course Objectives

This is an introductory course in finance. It addresses topics in finance that are important for all managers in organizations to understand. In addition to informing managers generally, these topics amount to an important foundation for higher level finance courses, and will be used extensively in those courses. Finally, some of the topics addressed in this course can help with personal financing and investment decisions.

It is the objective of this course to teach students:

- The principles of time value of money and how to apply them;
- The features of various kinds of financial instruments, how to value them, and how organizations can use them to raise the capital they need;
- Approaches to evaluating investment opportunities and making investment decisions;
- Measures of risk and how they are related to returns; and,
- General analytical skills in structuring and analyzing financial problems.

Classes will involve lectures, augmented with sample problems.

Tutorials

The tutorials are an important part of this course. They are closely integrated with the classroom material, the quizzes, the mid-term test, and the final exam. They will start in the 2^{nd} or 3^{rd} week of term. Specific timing will be announced in class and on CULearn. The tutorials will address, for the most part, the problems shown in bold on the list below in the week after each Chapter is addressed in class. Students are recommended to attempt all the problems listed for each Chapter before its associated tutorial. While the tutorials will focus on the problems shown in bold, students are encouraged to use the tutorials to address any of the problems or any other issue they are having with the course material. Students are encouraged to work in groups to complete these problems.

We would ask students who have questions concerning course scheduling, exam style, exam content and similar matters to direct their questions to their respective course instructors. The TAs are not versed in such matters.

Course Requirements & Methods of Evaluation:

	Weighting(%)
Participation/team assignments	10
Quiz.	5
Term test	35
Final exam	50
Total	100

A description of the participation/team assignment component of the course and its evaluation will be provided in class.

The quiz will be a one-hour test comprised of 15 multiple choice questions held during the 3^{rd} lecture on May 13, 2019.

The term test will be a two-hour test comprised of 30 multiple choice questions held in the week indicated. Material covered in classes up to and including the week beginning May 27, 2019 is eligible to be addressed in the term test. Students who are unable to write the term test because of a serious illness/emergency or other circumstances beyond their control, and who provide appropriate supporting documentation, may request accommodation. The instructors will use their best efforts to provide a make-up term test for eligible students in the week following the originally scheduled term test.

Missing the Mid-term: Students unable to write the mid-term because of serious illness/emergency or other circumstances beyond their control may apply directly to the professor to discuss possible alternatives.

This request must include relevant supporting documentation, and must be electronically submitted to the professor no later than the Monday after the missed midterm (Tuesday May 28, 2018). Approval is at the discretion of the professor. Please note that if the reason is due to a medical emergency, the documentation must clearly state that you were unable to come to school on the day because of that emergency. It is not necessary to provide the specifics of the emergency.

The makeup mid-term must be written before Monday June 3, 2019

The final exam will be a three-hour test comprised of 50 multiple choice questions held during the usual exam period. Material covered during the entire course is eligible to be addressed in the final exam.

In both the term test and the final exam 40-60% of the questions will be based on theory and 40-60% will be quantitative.

An equation sheet and discounting tables will be provided to students prior to the quia, term test and the final exam. Students will also be provided with the equation sheet and discounting tables in the term test and final exam.

In cases where a student's mark on the final exam exceeds the class participation mark, the final exam mark will be substituted for this evaluation items.

Student Responsibilities

Students are responsible reading each chapter listed in the course outline and knowing the material in those chapters whether specific mention of certain topics is made in class and regardless of whether topics are addressed in class. Because of time constraints, it is not possible to cover all the chapter material in class. Class time will be spent on the most important topics and on the topics from which students receive the most benefit from explanation in class.

Doing well in this course

- 1. Read the indicated chapter before class in which it is to be addressed;
- 2. Do the self-test questions in the chapter immediately after you read it;
- 3. Use the critical thinking questions at the end of each chapter to help you put concepts into your own words; this will help you develop a level of comfort with the material.
- 4. Use class time to ask questions about things that were not clear to you from reading the chapter;
- 5. Do the listed problems before the relevant tutorial;
- 6. Attend the tutorials to see how the problems identified in bold can be solved and to ask questions about issues you may have with the other problems or with other course material;
- 7. While solutions to the end-of-chapter problems will be provided at the beginning of the course, attempt problems before looking at their solutions; looking at the solution first leads to under-estimation of a problem's difficulty and over-estimation of your ability to solve it;
- 8. Experiment with examples presented in class using your calculator and spreadsheets to develop your understanding of how the calculations and solution approaches work; re-doing a class example, and re-working an example with different values can significantly improve your understanding or un-cover things you are not understanding;
- 9. Work at the course throughout the term, practice as you go along, and deal with things you don't understand as they arise; it is difficult to be successful with the kind of material covered in this course by cramming before the term test or exam;

10. Think about ideas addressed in the course outside of class, for example, when reading the newspaper or watching the news on television; question whether what you are seeing or hearing makes sense in light of your knowledge of the course concepts?

Textbook:

Ross, Westerfield, Jordan and Roberts, Fundamentals of Corporate Finance, 9th Canadian Edition, McGraw-Hill Ryerson, 2016

Calculators & BUSI Course Examinations

We recommend students purchase a financial calculator in particular the Texas Instruments BA II Plus (including Pro Model) Other financial calculators are: (i) Hewlett Packard HP 12C (including Platinum model), (ii) Sharp EL-738C or (iv) Hewlett Packard HP 10bII. The textbook contains "keystrokes" that relate to the use of the Texas Instruments model. If you are planning to obtain your Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) diploma, you may want to consider either the Texas Instruments or Hewlett Packard models.

Only non-programmable calculators without text storage capabilities will be allowed in the test and exam for this course.

Deferred Final Examinations Students unable to write a final examination because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control may apply within 3 days of the final examination to the Registrar's Office (RO) to request to write a deferred examination. Permission may be granted by the RO when the absence is supported by a medical certificate or other document. However, deferred examinations are not granted to students who make travel plans that conflict with the examination period.

DEFERRED FINAL EXAM: Students who do not demonstrate a minimum level of performance during the term will not be allowed to defer the final exam. The requirement for satisfactory in-term performance is an overall mark of 50% or better on the quizzes, assignments and mid-term exams. Students with unsatisfactory in-term performance who miss the final exam will be awarded a grade of F for the course.

FINAL EXAM COVERAGE: The final exam will be comprehensive, covering material from the entire course.

Course Schedule (tentative & subject to change):

Doing Well in the Class

- 1. Read the chapter before the class.
- 2. Do all self-test questions and all recommended questions (see course schedule below) for each chapter. The critical thinking questions will help you to put chapter concepts into your own words, which will help you develop a "feel" for what's going on.
- 3. Answers to many textbook problems will be available on the CULearn site. Don't look at the answer to a problem until you have worked at the problem long enough to feel frustrated. Looking at posted answers without "working" problems is a waste of your time.
- 4. Work at the course throughout the term. Cramming before tests won't enable you to develop an understanding of the material.

Required calculator in BUSI course examinations

If you are purchasing a calculator, we recommend any one of the following options: Texas Instruments BA II Plus (including Pro Model), Hewlett Packard HP 12C (including Platinum model), Staples Financial Calculator, Sharp EL-738C & Hewlett Packard HP 10bII

Group work

The Sprott School of Business encourages group assignments in the school for several reasons. They provide you with opportunities to develop and enhance interpersonal, communication, leadership, follower-ship and other group skills. Group assignments are also good for learning integrative skills for putting together a complex task. Your professor may assign one or more group tasks/assignments/projects in this course. Before embarking on a specific problem as a group, it is your responsibility to ensure that the problem is meant to be a group assignment and not an individual one.

In accordance with the Carleton University Undergraduate Calendar (p 34), the letter grades assigned in this course will have the following percentage equivalents:

0 0		01	0 1
A + = 90-100	B + = 77-79	C + = 67 - 69	D	0+=57-59
A = 85-89	B = 73-76	C = 63-66	Γ	= 53-56
A - = 80-84	B - = 70-72	C - = 60-62	Γ) - = 50-52
F = Below 50

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another's ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized co-operation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include; a grade of Failure on the submitted work and/or course; academic probation; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; suspension from full-time studies; suspension from all studies at Carleton; expulsion from Carleton, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at: https://carleton.ca/registrar/academic-integrity/.

Sprott Student Services

The Sprott student services office, located in 710 Dunton Tower, offers academic advising, study skills advising, and overall academic success support. If you are having a difficult time with this course or others, or just need some guidance on how to successfully complete your Sprott degree, please drop in any weekday between 8:30am and 4:30pm. Our advisors are happy to discuss grades, course selection, tutoring, concentrations, and will ensure that you get connected with the resources you need to succeed! http://sprott.carleton.ca/students/undergraduate/learning-support/

Centre for Student Academic Support

The Centre for Student Academic Support (CSAS) is a centralized collection of learning support services designed to help students achieve their goals and improve their learning both inside and outside the classroom. CSAS offers academic assistance with course content, academic writing and skills development. Visit CSAS on the 4th floor of MacOdrum Library or online at: carleton.ca/csas.
