Modality: 100% Synchronous Course Meets: Friday 14:35-17:25 Course Calendar Description

An examination of the major issues in corporate finance and applied financial management. Topics include: introduction to portfolio theory, the capital asset pricing model, cost of capital, capital structure and dividend policy, capital budgeting under uncertainty, mergers and consolidations.

Prerequisites

BUSI 2505 with a grade of C+ or higher in each, ECON 2009 and STAT 2606 with a grade of C-or higher in each.

The School of Business enforces all prerequisites.

This Course is prerequisite for BUSI 4500 Advanced Corporate Finance and BUSI 4510 Mergers and Acquisition (with a grade of C- or higher).

Course Objectives

This course focuses on applying the finance tools learned in BUSI 2504 and BUSI 2505 to business decisions. Topics to be discussed will include issues relating to risk and return, cost of capital, capital budgeting, capital structure, payout policy, and firm valuation. Material will be covered in more depth than in earlier courses. The course will use lectures, complemented by cases as a means of enriching student understanding of the important concepts and practices of corporate finance.

Valuation is the end game, where all of the aspects of corporate finance - investing, financing and dividend policies - come together in one number- Aswath Damodaran.

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this course you will be able to:

- Identify and discuss corporate governance issues affecting corporations
- Explain the trade-off between risk and return, and compare the perspective of a firm making project decisions to that of outside investors evaluating the firm
- Analyze long-term investment, financing and payout decisions of a corporation and be able to identify and discuss the theory and practice of Cost of capital, Capital structure, and Dividend policy.
- Value a firm using different valuation approaches

Required Text

Grading

		Due date
Live case study (Group work)	30%	April 14th
Quizzes (3) -10% each	30%	Feb 5th
		Mar. 12th
		Mar. 26th
Class Participation	5%
Final Examination	35%	TBD

NB: Successful completion of the course requires a pass (at least 50%) of the final examination mark.

Quizzes (3 quizzes): To encourage you to keep up with the course material and to measure your understanding of the material, I will administer 3 in-class quizzes. Each quiz will be approx., 40 minutes in duration and it will consist of multiple-choice and/or short answer questions. At the end of the lecture preceding the week of a quiz, you will be informed of the topics that will be tested. Note: The only valid excuses for missing a quiz is one of a medical nature or a family emergency and must be documented by a medical certificate. If a valid medical certificate is provided the student will have the missing quiz grade % added to the remaining quizzes and Final Exam. To encourage students to participate in all three quizzes, all students who participate in all 3 quizzes will have their top 2 quizzes graded only. The students lowest quiz grade will be eliminated.

Live case study (Group work): Throughout the semester, each student will work in a group to investigate the financial aspects of a Canadian company listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Select your company after the first class and email it to the instructor. Each group will have 4-5 members. You are responsible for choosing your teammates. The goal of this exercise is to provide you an opportunity to apply the concepts that will be discussed in class to a real company and to evaluate whether the company is maximizing value for its shareholders and, in the end, whether the firm is underpriced or overpriced in the marketplace. Details of this assignment are provided in a separate handout available on CuLearn. Also, an example of a live case study is available on CuLearn for your perusal. Sedar.com is a good source of information on companies listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange. This assignment should be submitted to me at the beginning of last class. The write-up will be word processed 12-font, double spaced and professionally written with a maximum length of 25 pages (excluding appendices). The first page of your report will consist of an executive summary of the group's analysis and recommendations. The subsequent pages will document the analysis and reasoning. Numerical analyses that are referred to in the write-up should be provided as appendices.

Peer Evaluation: The purpose of the peer evaluation is to provide feedback to the instructor regarding the contribution to the group projects of individual group members. For whatever reason, some members of the group may not contribute as much as everyone else. To ensure that each member of the group gets the correct credit for his/her work, each student should submit, either by email or by hard copy (with your name and signature), the rating of the members of your group on the day the group work is due. If I do not receive this form from an individual student, I will assume that the student has chosen to distribute the points equally amongst the group members. Marks may be deducted to students who do not fully participate in group report. This will be based on peer reviews. See below for peer evaluation template.

Final Exam: The final examination will test your understanding of the concepts covered in both the lecture and case components of the course. It will be held during the final examination period. The exam format will be multiple choice/short answer. Given the nature of this examination, the only valid excuse for missing the exam is one of a medical nature and must be documented by a medical certificate. If the exam is missed for medical reasons, students will have to apply for a deferred examination. The date and location of the final exam will be announced through the University's normal procedures for such matters. Be sure that you are available for the final exam. Allowance will not be made for conflicting travel plans.

In regard to calculators, only the following will be allowed for the Final examination. Texas Instruments BA II Plus (including Pro Model), Hewlett Packard HP 12C (including Platinum model), Staples Financial Calculator, Sharp EL-738C & Hewlett Packard HP 10bII.

Translation dictionaries are allowed if they are in print format and do not contain any handwritten notes. Electronic translation dictionaries are not allowed.

- NOTE: 1. The final exam will be comprehensive, covering material from the entire course. If you are awarded less than 50% on the final exam, you will receive an "F", regardless of your total mark in the course.
 - 2. Students who do not demonstrate a minimum level of performance during the term will not be allowed to defer the final exam. The requirement for satisfactory interim performance is an overall mark of 50% or better on the assignments and quizzes.

What is expected of you

- 1. Attend all lectures. The topics that will be covered in this course are cumulative. Missing a lecture could adversely affect your understanding of subsequent materials.
- 2. Individually read and prepare all the assigned cases. Then meet with your group to discuss each other's ideas and analyses.
- 3. Active class participation. Read and prepare the assigned cases and be prepared to participate in the discussion. Much of the learning from cases comes through participation and discussion, including discussion within your group before class.
- 4. Assemble a group and pick your company for the Live Case Study as soon as possible. You should pick a company that has good disclosure and research coverage. To be able to do a good analysis, you should start sooner rather than later.
- 5. Read the relevant chapters of the textbook before attending lectures.
- 6. Attempt the assigned practice questions. You may browse the Applied Corporate Finance Website and try some of the chapter questions.
- 7. Read the business section of at least one major newspaper (e.g. The Globe & Mail, Report on Business or The National Post (Daily), and The Wall Street Journal) to keep up with the latest developments in the Finance community.
- 8. Write all quizzes and the exam. Participate actively in your group work.

Group work

The Sprott School of Business encourages group assignments in the school for several reasons. They provide you with opportunities to develop and enhance interpersonal, communication, leadership, follower-ship and other group skills. Group assignments are also good for learning integrative skills for putting together a complex task. Your professor may assign one or more group tasks/assignments/projects in this course. Before embarking on a specific problem as a group, it is your responsibility to ensure that the problem is meant to be a group assignment and not an individual one.

In accordance with the Carleton University Undergraduate Calendar (p 34), the letter grades assigned in this course will have the following percentage equivalents:

A + = 90-100	B+ = 77-79	C + = 67-69	D+ = 57-59
A = 85-89	B = 73-76	C = 63-66	D = 53-56
A - = 80-84	B - = 70-72	C - = 60-62	D - = 50-52

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another's ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized cooperation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include; a grade of Failure on the submitted work and/or course; academic probation; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; suspension from full-time studies; suspension from all studies at Carleton; expulsion from Carleton, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at: https://carleton.ca/registrar/academic-integrity/.
