PREREQUISITES

Fourth year standing in B.Com, BIB, or Minor in Business; Minor in Business BSc Honours Applied Physics, and Minor in Business for BSc Honours Major Earth Sciences; ECON 1000. Precludes additional credit for BUSI 4902 (no longer offered).

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The overarching goal of this course is to critically examine/explore the managerial and institutional issues of contemporary globalization from the perspectives of emerging economies. It will focus on the role of indigenous and international institutions in the evolution of a competitive and inclusive global economy and society. It will also discern lessons of experience for newly globalizing societies. Specifically, the course aims to provide students with:

- (a) A clear understanding of the significance and implications of globalization and regionalism for emerging economies.
- (b) A framework for analyzing and assessing the unique business environments of the range of emerging economies around the world.
- (c) The main theories of international trade and investment as they pertain to emerging economies and an articulation of the contemporary issues investors have to contend with when doing business in/with emerging economies.
- (d) The skill set necessary for: (i) data collection, analysis and reporting and presentation, (ii) the formulation of business strategies and operational plans consistent with the realities of the challenges and opportunities obtaining in extant, disparate emerging economies/markets, and (iii) effective/productive team work and collaborative research and learning.
- (e) An opportunity for a hands-on experience through a group project on emerging economy assessment and corporate strategy formulation and presentation.
- (f) A solid foundation and knowledge necessary to prepare the students for more advanced study.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of this course, students should be able to:

- (a) Describe and explain the unique features of emerging economies, including: similarities and distinctions among emerging economies, their dynamics and evolution, growing significance and interdependence within the context of the global economy, the opportunities and challenges faced by domestic and foreign businesses in (and from) such economies, how emerging economies have endeavoured to manage globalization in its various manifestations, and how these experiences can serve as useful lessons for multinational corporations/enterprises (MNCs/MNEs), public policy makers and civil society from emerging economies and other societies.
- (b) Show a familiarity with various tools/techniques of data collection, analysis and report compilation and presentation as well as on how to effectively utilize publicly accessible and proprietary sources of emerging economy information/data.
- (c) Demonstrate that they can analyze/assess the unique, complex and dynamic environments of emerging markets in the context of the global economy by specifically identifying, prioritizing, and addressing the opportunities and challenges/threats faced by MNEs/MNCs from emerging economies (venturing into global markets) and those from outside the emerging economies entering the emerging markets around the world.

- (d) Discuss how MNCs/MNEs go about building and developing international relationships and corporate strategic alliances.
- (e) Articulate how the rest of the world engages with emerging economies with a particular focus on how Canada engages itself with emerging economies.

COURSE STRUCTURE AND DELIVERY

Meeting on scheduled days/dates in three-hour weekly sessions, this course will be structured on a lecture format and around four (4) broad activities:

(a) Student Engagement

Students will each week critically examine and discuss the assigned readings and issues. In fact, each session will begin by engaging students in a discussion of the key readings and a recap of the previous session's material. All course participants will be expected to take an active role in discussions. As such, each participant will be expected to have read all the required readings and be prepared to discuss the assigned readings and issues raised in the readings and class discussion. And, most importantly, class participation/engagement is predicated on the premise that class attendance for each and every student is mandatory throughout the semester.

(b) Mid-Term Test (in-class).

Students will be required to sit an in-class mid-term test on a scheduled date (Session 6: October 18th, 2016).

(c) Final Exam

Students will be required to sit a written formal final examination as scheduled by the university.

(d) Term Group Project:

There will be two types of group-based term projects:

- (i) Half the class will undertake projects that involve the in-depth assessment of an emerging economy and the formulation of a strategic plan for an MNC/MNE planning to enter the chosen emerging economy (Type A Projects) bearing in mind the main opportunities and risks the chosen MNC/MNE may face in the emerging economy as well as the key strengths and weaknesses of the MNC/MNE and the various sources of its strengths and weaknesses.
- (ii) The second half of the class will undertake projects that entail the formulation of a global strategic plan for an emerging economy MNC/MNE (Type B Projects). Specifically, Type B projects will involve an in-depth analysis of the main strengths and weaknesses of a multinational corporation (MNC/MNE) from an emerging economy and the key advantages and disadvantages it derives from its home country in light of global opportunities and threats. Based on such analysis each student group will then develop a concrete future-oriented strategic plan on how the chosen MNC/MNE and its home country can address their shortcomings so that the MNC/MNE can capitalize on its strengths and home-based advantages to compete and succeed globally.

This assignment (i.e., both types of projects) will be undertaken in four phases/stages whose detailed requirements are specified in a set of guidelines and marking rubrics provided separately on cuLearn.

They provide you with opportunities to develop and enhance interpersonal, communication, leadership, follower-ship and other group skills. Group assignments are also good for learning integrative skills for putting together a complex task. Your professor may assign one or more group tasks/assignments/projects in this course. Before embarking on a specific problem as a group, it is your responsibility to ensure that the problem is meant to be a group assignment and not an individual one.

In accordance with the Carleton University Undergraduate Calendar (p 34), the letter grades assigned in this course will have the following percentage equivalents:

A+ = 90-100	B+ = 77-79	C+ = 67-69	D+ = 57-59
A = 85-89	B = 73-76	C = 63-66	D = 53-56

Requests for Academic Accommodations

For Students with Disabilities:

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are appropriate and can be made. The deadlines for contacting the Paul Menton Centre regarding accommodations for December exams is November 11, 2016.

For Religious Obligations:

Students requesting academic accommodation on the basis of religious obligation should make a formal, written request to their instructors for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory event.

Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student.

Students and instructors can confirm accommodation eligibility of a religious event or practice by referring to the Equity Services website (<http://carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/religious-observances/>) for a list of holy days and Carleton's Academic Accommodation policies. If there are any questions on the part of the student or instructor, they can be directed to an Equity Services Advisor in the Equity Services Department for assistance.

For Pregnancy:

Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. The student must then make an appointment to discuss her needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another's ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized co-operation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include; a grade of Failure in the submitted work and/or course; academic probation; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; suspension from full-time studies; suspension from all studies at Carleton; expulsion from Carleton, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at: <http://carleton.ca/studentaffairs/academic-integrity/>
