I. COURSE DESCRIPTION AND PREREQUISITES

BUSI 4719 (0.5 credit) Practicum in International Business
Students will engage in an approved international experience, abroad or within Canada that fosters the development of a global mindset. This experience will allow students to integrate and apply the material learned in previous International Business courses.
Prerequisite(s): third-year standing in B.Com. (International Business Concentration) and permission of the School.

The Sprott School of Business enforces all prerequisites. It is your responsibility to ensure that you meet the prerequisite requirements for this course. Lack of prerequisite knowledge may lead to failure in the course. Only the Undergraduate Program Advisor of the School can waive prerequisite requirements. "Permission of the School" is subject to approval of a proposal to be submitted by the student (see section IV, Assignments and Assessment, below).

II. OBJECTIVES

The ability to make decisions that take into account multiple cultural and economic contexts can best be developed when theories and models learned in the classroom are augmented by direct experience of other cultures and foreign environments. The main objective of this course is to help students develop a global mindset and enhance their ability to operate effectively in a global context by providing them with experience in an international setting. While experiences abroad are generally preferred, the course sets the goal at a broader level, enabling students to immerse themselves in a foreign cultural and/or organizational environment either abroad or in Canada.

In this course students are expected to participate in activities that involve people from two or more cultures interacting to achieve educational, business, or humanitarian goals. Students are required to not just observe how such interactions are influenced by various cultural norms and local business practices, but, more importantly, to reflect on the origins of such forces and their effects on themselves and others, such as, for example, their co-workers, the organizations in which they are placed, or the organization's customers and other publics.

The course is intended to be challenging, fun, and interesting, but will not be easy, since, by definition, it deals with "foreign" issues and therefore with terrain that will often be unfamiliar. Developing a global mindset, which is the course's key objective, and connecting the course effectively to your other learning, requires a high level of engagement and performance.

III. Options, Provisos, and Conditions for Fulfilling the Course Requirements

Main Options

There are three main ways for fulfilling the course requirements:

- A. Study abroad at an institution of higher learning approved by the Sprott School of Business, taking at least one course equivalent to a 0.5 Carleton credit. There are two ways to fulfill Option A: Meet with the Sprott Exchange Coordinator in 710 DT to discuss which is best for you!
- Exchange: Participate in an approved Exchange for one or two terms, studying full-time at one of Carleton's partner institutions, earning credits towards your BCom degree. An approved, successfully-completed 0.5-credit earned while on Exchange will be used to satisfy BUSI 4719. Tuition fees are paid to Carleton. Meet with Sprott's Exchange Coordinator in early Fall: Applications for Exchange during 2018-19 are due in early December, 2017. No late applications accepted. Please see <http://sprott.carleton.ca/students/undergraduate/bcom/study-abroad/>
 - Letter of Permission (LOP): Participate in an approved Summer program abroad, earning minimally 0.5-credit towards your BCom degree. An approved, successfully-completed 0.5-credit earned while on LOP can be used to satisfy BUSI 4719. Tuition fees are paid to the host organization. Application dates vary. LOP instructions can be found at: <http://carleton.ca/registrar/exchanges/letter-of-permission/>
- B. International business-related work and/or study experience abroad (students are expected to complete a minimum of 80 hours of direct project-related work. In exceptional cases, upon approval by the instructor, shorter experiences may be considered when augmented by additional research work). This option requires pre-approval of the instructor.
- C. International business or cross-cultural experience in Canada – or in country of origin (students are expected to complete a minimum of 100 hours of direct project-related work. In exceptional cases, upon approval by the instructor, shorter experiences may be considered when augmented by additional research work). This option requires pre-approval of the instructor.

Important Provisos and Conditions

1. Types of activities and approval. For Option A, the course must be selected in consultation with the Sprott Exchange Coordinator so as to fulfill the program requirement denoted by BUSI 4719. Any placement or activity for Options B and C must be approved before the student begins the activity. Under no circumstances will an activity or placement for options B and C be approved retroactively.

2. Compliance with rules and requirements. The identification of an activity for this course, and all arrangements and costs associated with it, are the responsibility of the student. In addition to securing financing, if needed, for any costs associated with the proposed activity, this specifically and expressly includes compliance with any rules and requirements of Carleton University and/or of the organizations and countries for and in which a student works – such as completion and submission of the appropriate waiver-of-risk or informed consent forms required by the University; signing-up on the Carleton Travel Registry if travelling abroad; obtaining, and carrying proof of, appropriate health and/or liability insurance coverage, a valid visa and passport, and other documentation required depending on the student's project; attending pre-departure sessions organized by the International Student Services Office (ISSO); and generally consulting with the Sprott Exchange Coordinator, the course instructor, the ISSO, and any other relevant person or office at Carleton about any specific questions regarding the student's project.

3. Confirmation of activity performed. Evidence of having carried out the approved activity must be supplied once it is completed. This will take the form of (a) a transcript or certificate by the host institution for courses taken abroad under Option A, and (b) for Options B and C, written confirmation and evaluation of the activity (duration, nature, performance assessment, and other details as appropriate) by the person or organization that supervised the student's activity.

IV. Readings, Assignments, and Assessment

Reading Materials

Since different students will select different types of activities to fulfill the requirements of this course, there are no specific readings assigned to all students; the instructor may suggest sources if needed, but the choice is up to the student. Nevertheless it is strongly recommended that, depending on the activity selected, and in consultation with the instructor, course participants read extensively and carefully in two broad areas:

- General topics related to the course; examples include the development and meaning of a "global mindset", the importance to business of both globalization and cultural adaptation, and the implications of standardizing vs. adapting international strategies.
- Specific topics related to the activity chosen by the individual student; examples include learning about the culture of the country involved in the student's activity, the type of the organization involved and the various ways in which organizations of that type approach international markets, or comparative analyses of the target culture versus others.

Assignments

There are three assignments required for the successful completion of this course in options B and C: A proposal, interim report, and final report. These are outlined below, and additional guidelines are provided on culearn. Assignments will be marked on the basis of their clarity and organization, the use of ideas and concepts from earlier courses in international business, and the depth of insight into the student's experience (see grading rubric on culearn).

1. For Option A, when there is a transfer of coursework credit approved by the University, no additional assignments are required. At the end of the Exchange, the student needs to request that 0.5 credits taken abroad be used to fulfil the requirements of BUSI 4719.

Note: For study abroad options that do not fit the standards of a traditional Exchange (e.g. coursework not for academic credit) use option B.

2. For Options B and C, i.e. for internships, volunteer work, research, not-for credit coursework, or more generally for any project other than a standard study-abroad Exchange:

a. Proposal for the intended activity. This must be submitted by the student and accepted by the instructor before the student can register in the course, and therefore before he/she begins his/her international experience activity. The proposal must include:

- a detailed description of the suggested project, including motivation for selecting it, learning objectives, work plan, and timeline;
- an outline of the company or other organization, an indication of their agreement to participate, and a description of the position, duties, and responsibilities involved; and
- any other relevant information that will enable an efficient and comprehensive assessment of the proposed project.

b. Interim report. This should normally be filed approximately mid-way during the student's activity or the term of registration in BUSI 4719, the date to be determined by the instructor and student in advance, at the proposal stage, depending on the nature of the project. The interim report will document the activities undertaken, the cultural and other environmental circumstances under which they have occurred, the contributions to the student's international experience, and any difficulties or problems encountered, to that point.

c. Final report. By prior arrangement with the instructor, to be specified in the approved proposal, this will be due two weeks after the completion of the placement or activity, or, latest, by the last day of classes in the term of registration for BUSI 4719. The report should:

- amplify and add to the earlier observations from the interim report, with special emphasis on the effects of culture at both the interpersonal and organizational level and on the insights gained through the experience;
- compare the overall experience with the expectations stated in the initial proposal;
- relate the experience to other courses taken thus far as part of the BCom program, with special emphasis on the content of international business courses; and
- be accompanied by a brief letter of evaluation from the manager or supervisor of the student's work, as appropriate.

Evaluation

Options B and C:	Minimum length	Percent of grade
Proposal	5 pages	20%
Interim report	5 pages	20%
Final report	20 pages	60%

- Cheating, plagiarism, and other instructional offences are not tolerated and can have severe penalties. Please see the University's statement on Academic Integrity in the attached sheet.
- For guidelines on how to format a report for effectiveness, as well as on how to properly document sources used, see the document "Paper Formatting & Documentation Guidelines" at <http://sprott.carleton.ca/wp-content/files/documentation-guide-np-rev-2014.pdf>.
- All assignments are normally marked and returned one week after submission.

The Sprott School of Business encourages group assignments in the school for several reasons. They provide you with opportunities to develop and enhance interpersonal, communication, leadership, follower-ship and other group skills. Group assignments are also good for learning integrative skills for putting together a complex task. Your professor may assign one or more group tasks/assignments/projects in this course. Before embarking on a specific problem as a group, it is your responsibility to ensure that the problem is meant to be a group assignment and not an individual one.

Requests for Academic Accommodations

For Students with Disabilities:

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable).

Requests made within two weeks will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website (www.carleton.ca/pmc) for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

For Religious Obligations:

Students requesting academic accommodation on the basis of religious obligation should make a formal, written request to their instructors for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory event.

Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student.

Students and instructors can confirm accommodation eligibility of a religious event or practice by referring to the Equity Services website (<http://carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/religious-observances/>) for a list of holy days and Carleton's Academic Accommodation policies. If there are any questions on the part of the student or instructor, they can be directed to an Equity Services Advisor in the Equity Services Department for assistance.

For Pregnancy:

Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. The student must then make an appointment to discuss her needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another's ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized co-operation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include; a grade of Failure on the submitted work and/or course; academic probation; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; suspension from full-time studies; suspension from all studies at Carleton; expulsion from Carleton, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at: <http://carleton.ca/studentaffairs/academic-integrity>.
