BUSI4901 Special Topics: Business and Environmental Sustainability II

Course Description
This course is built around high-profile guest lectures, class discussions and group assignments evaluating the role of business in environmental problems. The course will pose challenging “big picture” environmental sustainability questions and encourage critical and creative exchanges between guest speakers and students. The course will use delve into current conundrums of the role of business models to mitigate harm and adapt to change in our search for solutions to pressing environmental issues.

Please visit our course outlines page for current, detailed course syllabi.

Applicants
The School places great emphasis on the hands-on integration of business theory and practice and actively encourages working professionals. Candidates applying for a Contract Instructor position must possess a minimum of a Master’s degree in business, or equivalent. The candidate should have at least five years and recent (within the last 5 years) in management or progressively responsible and relevant to the subject senior position. Preference* will be given to candidates with a PhD or equivalent with a strong record of research publications and productivity consistent with AACSB guidelines for a doctoral granting business school. CHRP designation will be an asset.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply. Individuals interested in teaching this course must complete an application and forward with CV (include all courses taught at Carleton University) to teaching@sprott.carleton.ca

*In accordance with Articles 16.3 and 16.4 in the CUPE 4600-2 Collective Agreement, the posted vacancies listed above are first offered to qualified applicants meeting the incumbency criterion. A link to the current CUPE 4600-2 Collective Agreement can be found at the Employment Agreements webpage on the Carleton University Human Resources website and the CUPE 4600-2 website.

Please note that successful incumbents of this posting may be required to support the Assurance of Learning (AOL) process for the course as part of the formal responsibilities of the position. More details and training will be provided as needed.

Closing date for this position is June 20, 2021.
The University may require that all or part of this course be delivered remotely, including online.