Precludes additional credit for BUSI 5005 (no longer offered). Prerequisite(s): ACCT 5001.

Course description & objectives

Accounting has often been called "the language of Business". This course is designed to help you begin to understand and communicate this language. Broadly stated, accounting is a process that develops and communicates information about organizations to support economic decision making.

The ACCT 5002 course focuses on the basic managerial accounting concepts and tools that aid internal managers in decision making to make optimal financial decisions. Major topics addressed in this course include: cost and cost behaviour, short and long-term decision making, activity-based cost systems, budgeting and control issues.

The ability to apply the concepts learned in real world cases and working in groups is also emphasized in this course.

Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will be expected to have:

- (1) A general understanding of the nature of management accounting, its concepts and principles.
- (2) An understanding of the need for accounting information for decisions.
- (3) Skills to understand and to critically analyze and interpret management accounting information.
- (4) A general understanding of the role of performance measurement and the control function in organizations.
- (5) An understanding of costs and cost behaviour and their use in costing and decision making for short and long-term decisions.
- (6) An understanding (including the limitations) of accounting measurements and reporting in performance measurement and control.

Course Prerequisites:

ACCT-5001

Textbook(s): (custom publication – selected chapters from)

Cost Accounting - A Managerial Emphasis Horngren, Datar, Rajan, Beaubien, and Graham, 8th Canadian Edition, Pearson, 2019 ISBN- 9780134453736

A copy of the full textbook is on reserve at the library.

Grading Scheme

ACCT 5002

Participation	10%
Mini-group Assignment (2 assignments – 2 students/group)	25%
Final Exam	50%
Hand-in Case – (1 case – 4 students/group)	15%

In the ACCT 5002 course, there will be two individual/mini-group assignments – can be done in groups of 2 (wk 3 and 6) and one group case (week 4) designed to integrate the material from the course. The group case is to be submitted in groups of no more than 4 students (max), 3 students (min). The assignments/cases are due at the beginning of the class assigned. Late assignments/cases will not be accepted.

Participation is critical in a course like this. To gain a full understanding of the material, students are expected to participate in each class. Learning outcomes are enhanced when students share experiences and knowledge.

EXAMINATION

There will be one examination scheduled during the formal examination period which will encompass all the material from ACCT 5002 during the final exam week (confirmed by 1st class).

Missed assignments and deferred examination:

Missed assignments:

The only valid excuses for missing an assignment is for medical reasons or death in your family and must be documented with a medical certificate or death certificate. You are required to provide your documentation within one week. Any other reason (such as travel, etc....) cannot be considered. In such circumstances there will be no make-up assignment.

Deferred Final Examination:

Students unable to write a final examination because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control must contact the instructor in writing to request a deferred exam. Permission may be granted when the absence is supported by a medical certificate and or appropriate document/s to support the reason for the deferral. Deferred exams are not granted for students who have made travel arrangements that conflict with examination schedule.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

Class sessions entail a mixture of lecture, case study, problem analysis, and class discussion. Lectures emphasize major topics and concepts. It requires active learning, which means that the student must take responsibility for the learning that takes place. You are encouraged to ask questions and to stimulate discussion on topics that you have difficulty understanding.

How to do well in this course:

COME TO CLASS, COME TO TUTORIALS AND PRACTICE, PRACTICE, PRACTICE...

To perform well in this course, you must spend time answering extra problems and checking the answers to test their understanding. To maximize your learning, you should make an honest attempt at the question before peeking at the solution. Simply reading a question and then turning to the solution right away is next to useless. You will find that there is likely to be a direct correlation between the number of problems you prepare, your attendance in class and your course grade.

Class Etiquette

1. Late arrival should be an exception. When necessary, sit on entering side; do not disturb the class.
2. Early departure should be an exception also.
3. Early preparation for departure - please don't.
4. Talking - with everyone or with no one.
5. Cell phones and other electronic noises....off.

Group work

The Spratt School of Business encourages group assignments in the school for several reasons. They provide you with opportunities to develop and enhance interpersonal, communication, leadership, follower-ship and other group skills. Group assignments are also good for learning integrative skills for putting together a complex task. Your professor may assign one or more group tasks/assignments/projects in this course. Before embarking on a specific problem as a group, it is your responsibility to ensure that the problem is meant to be a group assignment and not an individual one.

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another's ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized co-operation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include; a grade of Failure on the submitted work and/or course; academic probation; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; suspension from full-time studies; suspension from all studies at Carleton; expulsion from Carleton, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at: <https://carleton.ca/registrar/academic-integrity/>

Centre for Student Academic Support

The Centre for Student Academic Support (CSAS) is a centralized collection of learning support services designed to help students achieve their goals and improve their learning both inside and outside the classroom. CSAS offers academic assistance with course content, academic writing and skills development. Visit CSAS on the 4th floor of MacOdrum Library or online at: carleton.ca/csas
