

Eric Sprott School of Business
Carleton University

BUSI 2701B
Fundamentals of International Business
Fall 2016

Professor	Rumaisa Shaukat, PhD., CHRL.
Office	TBA
E-Mail	rumaisa.shaukat@carleton.ca For any email query, in the subject column write your course codes.
Office Hours	By Appointment Only. I'm generally available right after class for quick questions/comments.
Class Times and locations	Thursday 6:05- 8:55
Prerequisites	N/A. Precludes additional credit for BUSI 1701 and BUSI 2702.
Website:	Course slides will be posted on CuLearn. Please attend classes to take notes! All material covered in the class is potential exam material Attendance is Mandatory, I can take attendance on random days. I reserve the right to deduct points for missing classes ***

Calendar Course Description:

Introduction to the context and operation of international business. Topics include international trade theory, trade agreements and blocs, international finance, global marketing, international human resource management and global strategy.

Course Description:

International business is an aspect of human enterprise that impacts most people, governments and institutions around the world. Whether you are a consumer of a product imported from a foreign nation, the government of a developing country hoping to create jobs through investment from a multinational corporation, or a domestic company suddenly experiencing competition from an offshore firm, you are affected by the laws, agreements and institutions that govern international business. This course will examine the conceptual and practical aspects of international business and the management of firms operating in an international environment. Topics will include international trade theory, the international business environment, trade agreements and regional economic integration, and global strategy and marketing.

Learning Objectives:

1. Understand why countries and businesses engage in international trade.
2. Understand the economic, legal, political and cultural aspects of the environments in which multinational businesses operate.
3. Become familiar with regional economic organizations / agreements such as the European Union and the North American Free Trade Agreement, and International Trade Organizations such as the World Trade Organization.
4. Understand how basic business functions (e.g. marketing) are affected when operations involve multiple countries and cultures.

Course Expectations

1. Emails: I communicate with students through their student email accounts. It is your responsibility to check your emails as I will be sending important messages through this medium. Important messages will also be posted on CuLearn. This site will be the primary source for course materials including announcements, assignments, supplemental lecture slides, etc. Therefore, please check the course CuLearn site very regularly. In case of class cancellation due to inclement weather or other unforeseen circumstances, an announcement will be posted on CuLearn as soon as possible.
2. Active Participation. Students are expected to attend, take notes, and participate in class. Students are expected to maximize their own learning by actively participating in all activities. This includes raising questions for discussion or clarification, bringing their own work and other organizational (only professional and academic) experiences to discussion, and interacting professionally and ethically with classmates and with the instructor.
3. Regular Attendance. As most of the course material is structured in such a way that it builds upon itself, and because this class, for obvious reasons, places so much emphasis on the practice of communication through discussion, exercises, etc., it is difficult for you to enhance your interpersonal skills if you are not regularly present to practice them. Also, because you will be part of a group requiring your involvement and input, attendance is something that you owe to your fellow group members. Therefore, punctual attendance and regular readings are strongly recommended.
4. Follow Assignment Instructions. Carefully read the instructions for your written assignments described in the course outline. Always use a title for your work. Strictly, follow the instructions regarding page limit/font size/margins for your written submissions. In any case do not exceed the required standard page limits for all submissions. Format for written submissions should follow the American Psychological Association (APA) Publication Manual (5th Edition).
5. Keep duplicates of deliverables. For your protection, always keep a copy of your written assignments (either soft copy or a hard copy). In case of loss, theft, destruction, dispute over authorship, or any other eventuality, it will be your responsibility to provide a copy of your written submissions.
6. Respect Deadlines. All deadlines need to be respected, and exceptions will be granted only in extraordinary cases. No make up case study, no make up assignment. Projects which are submitted after the due date without an agreed upon extension are considered late assignments. Assignments must be handed in at which they are due. Submission of late assignments requires the prior consent of the instructor otherwise the penalty on late assignments is a grade loss of 20% per day up to a maximum of 3 days, after that assignments will not be accepted.
7. Respect your classmates' desire to learn. In class, turn off all cell phones, beepers, or other electronic communication devices. The use of laptops is only allowed for activities related to the class though. Inappropriate use of your wireless/laptop in class will be noted and will affect your grade.
8. Respect intellectual property rights: Materials created for this course, including professor's lectures, students' presentations, assignments and exams, remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s). Lectures must not be recorded digitally (i.e., photographed, audio-taped or video-taped) without prior approval of the Professor.
9. Late arrivals and early departures are not acceptable in this class. Do not 'leave' early, that is, pack up books, stand up, etc. near the end of the class. The class period is over when the allocated time is completely up or when the instructor dismisses the class. Late students conspicuously disturb the learning experience for their classmates. As a courtesy, you should plan to arrive no later than the start of class (if not sooner).
10. NOTE: This syllabus, along with due dates, are subject to change if necessary due to circumstances beyond the professor's control. It is the student's responsibility to check Blackboard and attend class for corrections or updates to the syllabus. Any changes will be promptly and clearly noted in the course announcements or through Blackboard Mail.

If at any time something seems unclear or unreasonable to you, please make an appointment to discuss it. I am open to your suggestions and comments. This class is meant to be an open forum for learning and discussion. Perhaps you have a question about some class material but feel uncomfortable asking it in class it or the question does not occur to you until afterwards. Or perhaps you are working on a class assignment and have a question about getting started or want a second opinion to assess whether you're appropriately approaching the project. In instances such as these, please contact me.

Email Guidelines

- Please be professional.
- Always use your university account. E-mail from other domains (hotmail, gmail) often are treated as spam.
- Always identify the course number and section in the Subject line
- Please use proper greetings. You can refer to your instructors as “Professor X” or “Dr. X.” Any other title (Ms., Mrs., Miss, or Mr.) is less appropriate given the classroom context. As business students, it is imperative that you learn to use proper titles.
- Always sign your email with your first and last names and include your student number.

Policy on Re-marking

From time to time, students have legitimate concerns about marks they have received on a Case, Quiz, or Project. If you feel that any paper handed back to you has not been marked appropriately for the work you have submitted, you do have recourse for re-marking. However, please note that to be eligible for re-marking, you must embark upon the following procedure within one week of the deliverable being handed back in class:

1. Indicate in writing specifically what your concern(s) is (are). This does NOT mean that you simply say “I think I deserve more marks.” You must clearly indicate where the marker made a mistake in his/her marking of the paper. In this regard, you must refer to the class notes, excerpt in the textbook, etc., supporting your claim.
2. After completing #1 above, you must submit the paper with your comments back to the Professor within one week of the paper being handed back in class. If you did not pick up the paper when it was handed back, you still have only 1 week from the original hand-back date to request a remark.
3. If a deliverable is not resubmitted following the above guidelines, the Professor will regard the mark as originally assigned to be the final mark for that deliverable.

NO MARKS will be changed at a later date. It is important to note that the Professor reserves the right to remark the entire paper in question and to either leave the mark as is or to change it positively or negatively as required.

Pedagogy

Throughout the course, we will use a number of different teaching techniques (e.g., lectures, in-class discussion groups, cases, and videos). This is a highly participative course – in other words all students will be expected to come to class prepared to discuss all of the material. In-class group work will occur most weeks and group members will be expected to fully participate and report on the outcome of their discussions.

Required Text Book

Hill, C., &McKaig. T. (2015).Global Business Today. (4th Canadian edition): McGraw-Hill Ryerson Ltd. ISBN 13: 9781259104817

Student Online Learning Centre

at http://highered.mheducation.com/sites/0070401799/student_view0/chapter1/index.html

The OLC offers self-grading quizzes, interactive exercises, videos and associated pedagogy, entrepreneurial peer profiles, Globe and Mail news feeds, and global business plan material.

Course Schedule

Sessions	Topics and Cases	Assigned Readings
Session 1 Sep 8	Introduction to the course, Overview of intended outcomes, readings, assignments and evaluation for the course; formation of teams; Globalization	No Assigned Readings Ch 1
Session 2 Sep 15	Country Differences in Political Economy; The Cultural Environment	Ch 2-3
Session 3 Sep 22 Country Analysis outline due	Ethics in International business; International Trade Theories	Ch4-5
Session 4 Sep 29	The Political Economy of International Trade; Foreign Direct Investment; Regional Economic Integration;	Ch6-8
Session 5 Oct 6 Country Analysis Report Due	The Foreign Exchange Environment; The Global Monetary System; Global Strategy	Ch 9-11
Session 6 Oct 13 Company Analysis outline due	Entering Foreign Markets; Exporting, Importing, and Countertrade; Global Marketing, and R&D	Ch 12-14
Session 7 Oct 20	Midterm Exam based on Ch 1-6 only Global Production, Outsourcing, and Logistics; Global Human Resources Management	Ch 15-16
Session 8 Oct 27 No Class	Study Break	No Assigned Readings
Session 9 Nov 3	Company Analysis Presentations	Utilize all Readings
Session 10 Nov 10 Company Analysis Report Due	Company Analysis Presentations	Utilize all Readings
Session 11 Nov 17	Company Analysis Presentations	Utilize all Readings
Session 12 Nov 24	Company Analysis Presentations	Utilize all Readings
Session 13 Dec 1	Company Analysis Presentations	Utilize all Readings
Session 14 Dec 8	Company Analysis Presentations Final Exam (Chapters 7-16) Review Session (Bring your questions)	Utilize all Readings

FND: To reduce instances of miscommunication Carleton introduced a grade FND (Failure with No Deferral) to be assigned to students who fail to meet the minimum in-term performance standards explicitly set out in the outline and applied consistently (i.e., there are no other hidden criteria).

Satisfactory In-term Performance

1. To pass the course students must achieve a mark of at least 50% on each of the papers and the mid-term exam.
2. To pass the course students must achieve at least 50% on the final exam.
3. Students who fail to meet these requirements will receive a mark of FND.

Grading Scheme:

1. Country Specific Business analysis: Written Report only	20%
2. Company Analysis Report: Presentation: 10% Written report: 10%	20%
3. Midterm Exam	20%
4. Final Exam	40%
Total	100%

FOR EACH DELIVERABLESUBMIT THE FOLLOWING DOCUMENTS

For both written reports:

1. 1 Hard copy of your report (maximum 10 pages double spaced). Please read "points 4-6 under the course expectations section on page 2 for details.

 During presentations, I can randomly ask any student to ask presenters questions on their presentation. I will not assign this task to any specific individuals, therefore, it is extremely important that you attend all presentations and listen carefully. No excuses will be accepted. For example “we only missed this class”, or I was feeling sick and had to leave” etc. If you are not going to be in the class, or you have to leave for any reasons, let me know otherwise you can lose 1 mark from your total grade for each missed classNo exceptions!!!!

Country Specific Business analysis Project

Individually, students will prepare a written report on a country exploring how that country fits into the international business environment. Extensive research is required here as you are not only learning about how to do research and presentations but also educating your fellow students about the country you chose. Detailed requirements for the assignment will be posted on cuLearn by the end of week one. Submissions must be in the format specified in the requirements. SO READ THOSE CAREFULLY!!!

Company Specific Business Analysis Project

Individually, each student will submit a company analysis report of a firm with international operations at the beginning of class on the due date indicated in the Course Schedule. Students will also present this project. Detailed requirements for the assignment will be posted on CuLearn by the end of week one. SO READ THOSE CAREFULLY!!!

Midterm Test and Final Test

The midterm test will be held during regular class time and will consist of multiple choice questions based on the textbook chapters assigned up to the test date and all lectures and materials covered in the classes. Students who are unable to write the midterm exam due to a certified illness will have the weight of the midterm exam added to their final test. Students missing the midterm must notify me with an official document (e.g., doctor note) - preferably before the midterm, otherwise within 24 hours following the midterm. Please note that we only accept deferrals for valid reasons such as medical emergency (with a valid medical certificate), for death in the immediate family (with a death certificate) or religious reasons. The School reserves the right to accept or reject the reason offered. Travel, employment, tickets to events, weddings, and misreading the examination date/time are not acceptable reasons. The final test will be held during the formal exam period and will be based on the textbook chapters and all lectures and materials covered in class (with an emphasis on material covered subsequent to the midterm for multiple choice questions).

Written Deliverables

All hand-in assignments are expected to be in the best business standard. That being: double-spaced, 1” margins all around and 12 point font in Times New Roman. Any that do not meet this standard will find that the entire paper will not be marked. The marker will estimate where the material would have ended if the proper standard was employed and stop marking there. You must also include a cover page that clearly identifies: the assignment title, your name(s), date, section(s) and course number at a minimum. Cover pages and endnotes are not included in the page count.

Class Participation:

Although class participation will not be directly assessed in calculating final grades, it is an important part of the learning process and will therefore affect your performance on the other assignments. At a minimum, good class participation requires that you arrive at class having carefully read the assigned materials, and that you listen carefully, ask questions about points that need clarification, and remain open to learning from alternative perspectives. Given the nature of the course material, the classroom atmosphere tends to involve lively discussion, and we will encourage everyone to participate actively. The ability to present one’s ideas concisely and persuasively, and to respond effectively to those of others, is a key success factor in any managerial position. Attendance during any of the two team presentations is mandatory. Missing any of these classes without a medical note will result in a 5% reduction in your final grade; no exceptions.

Course Sharing Websites

Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s).

Group work

The Sprott School of Business encourages group assignments in the school for several reasons. They provide you with opportunities to develop and enhance interpersonal, communication, leadership, follower-ship and other group skills. Group assignments are also good for learning integrative skills for putting together a complex task. Your professor may assign one or more group tasks/assignments/projects in this course. Before embarking on a specific problem as a group, it is your responsibility to ensure that the problem is meant to be a group assignment and not an individual one.

Sprott Student Services

The Sprott student services office, located in 710 Dunton Tower, offers academic advising, study skills advising, and overall academic success support. If you’re having a difficult time with this course or others, or just need some guidance on how to successfully complete your Sprott degree, please drop in any weekday between 8:30am and 4:30pm. Our advisors are happy to discuss grades, course selection, tutoring, concentrations, and will ensure that you get connected with the resources you need to succeed! <http://sprott.carleton.ca/students/undergraduate/support-services/>

In accordance with the Carleton University Undergraduate Calendar (p 34), the letter grades assigned in this course will have the following percentage equivalents:

A+ = 90-100	B+ = 77-79	C+ = 67-69	D+ = 57-59
A = 85-89	B = 73-76	C = 63-66	D = 53-56
A - = 80-84	B - = 70-72	C - = 60-62	D - = 50-52

F = Below 50 WDN = Withdrawn from the course

ABS = Student absent from final exam

DEF = Deferred (See above)

FND = (Failed, no Deferred) = Student could not pass the course even with 100% on final exam

Academic Regulations, Accommodations, Etc.

University rules regarding registration, withdrawal, appealing marks, and most anything else you might need to know can be found on the university's website, here:

<http://calendar.carleton.ca/undergrad/regulations/academicregulationsoftheuniversity/>

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. - - The deadlines for contacting the Paul Menton Centre regarding accommodation for final exams for the December 2016 exam period is November 11, 2016 and for the April 2017 exam period is March 10, 2017.

For Religious Obligations:

Students requesting academic accommodation on the basis of religious obligation should make a formal, written request to their instructors for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory event. Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student. Students who have questions or want to confirm accommodation eligibility of a religious event or practice may refer to the Equity Services website for a list of holy days and Carleton's Academic Accommodation policies, or may contact an Equity Services Advisor in the Equity Services Department for assistance.

For Pregnancy:

Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. The student must then make an appointment to discuss her needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another's ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized co-operation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include expulsion; suspension from all studies at Carleton; suspension from full-time studies; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; academic probation; and a grade of Failure in the course, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at <http://carleton.ca/studentaffairs/academic-integrity>.

Assistance for Students:

Student Academic Success Centre (SASC): www.carleton.ca/sasc

Writing Tutorial Services: <http://www1.carleton.ca/sasc/writing-tutorial-service/>

Peer Assisted Study Sessions (PASS): www.carleton.ca/sasc/peer-assisted-study-sessions

Important Information:

- Students must always retain a hard copy of all work that is submitted.
- All final grades are subject to the Dean's approval.
- Please note that you will be able to link your CONNECT (MyCarleton) account to other non-CONNECT accounts and receive emails from us. However, for us to respond to your emails, we need to see your full name, CU ID, and the email must be written from your valid CONNECT address. Therefore, it would be easier to respond to your inquiries if you would send all email from your connect account. If you do not have or have yet to activate this account, you may wish to do so by visiting <https://portal.carleton.ca/>

APPENDIX I

Guidelines for Presentations

Please Read guidelines very carefully. Not following any of the instructions below could affect your grade

1. Maximum time available for presentation will be announced in the class: minutes in total [..... minutes for presentations, remaining time will be used for any questions from the class or from the professor]. Please note that you are expected in fairness to your colleagues to respect the time allocation. Not doing so could adversely affect your evaluation. Utilize available time, do not rush through your presentation, and don't conclude abruptly. Without a proper introduction and conclusion you can lose marks.
2. Submit an electronic copies of your (PowerPoint) presentation to the professor the day before the actual presentation. Title of the presentation slides should be your name. Don't send any second or third revised or updated version of your slides. I will save your slides on a USB and on the desktop as well. No late submission will be accepted. No revised version will be accepted and no one will be allowed to save any updated version on the desktop on the day of actual presentation, and if you forgot to send me your slides, then you won't be allowed to use slides. If you didn't follow any these guidelines, you will lose 25% of your presentation grade. No exceptions. So plan ahead and prepare well in advance rather than waiting for the last moment.
3. In your slides, your names, group number and topic should be very clear. In your emails, always include your group number if your inquiry is related to group project. Even with your ppt slides, I need to know what your group number is, otherwise I will not save your slides and you will present without slides.
4. Be on time, In addition, bring a hard copy of your slides on the day you present. Not doing so could adversely affect your grade.
5. There will be no changes in presentation dates. people with any emergencies or problems will be switching their presentation dates with other students. In case of change inform your professor otherwise you will not be allowed to present.
6. Please be professional during your presentations.

- Don't read word by word from your script. Don't parrot PowerPoint either. You can use cue cards with key words and starter sentences.
- Carefully select the background and font color and size. Make it easy for your audience to follow you.
- Don't use complete sentences or paragraphs in your slides. Your voice should tell the story and the slides should only support it.
- Don't use effects, such as texts that fly into the slide or ANY other disturbing transitions. Only use power point program for your slides.
- Don't use cute or unusual photos that are not illustrating exactly what you are talking about. The interesting stuff should be in your content.
- Do speak loudly enough to be heard by the entire audience, even those in the back row.
- Don't walk in the class for no reasons. Make your movements and gestures purposeful.
- Don't kick the podium; don't play with your hair, jewelry, pens, baseball caps and papers.
- Don't put your hands in your pockets or on your hips and don't cross your legs while standing. I don't require presenters to wear professional attire but wear decent cloths suitable for an academic environment.
- Avoid talking or laughing among each other while your members are still presenting.
- Introduce yourself before starting your presentations.

Appendix II

Quick APA Guide: Examples of APA reference format (according to 5th Edition)

Journal Reference:

Akmal, T., & Miller, D. (2003). Overcoming resistance to change: A case study of revision and renewal in a US secondary education teacher preparation program. Teaching & Teacher Education, 19(4), 409-420.

Book Reference:

Apps, J. W. (1994). Leadership for an emerging age: Transforming practice in adult and continuing education. San Francisco: Jossey-Bass.

Book Chapter Reference:

Cobb, A. T., Wooden, K. C., & Folger, R. (1995). Justice in making: Toward understanding the theory and practice in organizational change and development. In W.A. Pasmore & R. W. Woodman (Eds.), Research in Organizational Change and Development (pp. 243-295). New York: JAI Press

Book Editions:

Friend, M., & Cook, L. (1996). Interactions: Collaborative skills for school professionals. (2nd ed.). White Plains, NY: Longman.

Internet Article:

Bolognese, A. F. (2002). Employee Resistance to Organizational Change. Retrieved May 13, 2004 from <http://www.newfoundations.com/OrgTheory/Bolognese721.html>

Dissertation reference:

Bean, C. J. R. (2003). Framing and sensemaking in organizational change: The experience of nomadic work. [Dissertation Abstract] Dissertation Abstracts International, 64(2- A), 564US: Univ Microfilms International.

Same Authors in same year:

Dent, E. B., & Goldberg, S. G. (1999a). Challenging “resistance to change”. Journal of Applied Behavioral Science, 35(1), 25-41.

Dent, E. B., & Goldberg, S. G. (1999b). Resistance to change: A limiting perspective. The Journal of Applied Behavioral Science, 35(1), 45-47.

Text Citation:

1. Author’s last name and year of publication [E.g., Bolognese, (2002)]
2. For direct quotations, author’s last name, year of publication and page numbers. E.g., (Bolognese, 2002, p. 12) or Bolognese (2002) claims, “.....” (P. 12). For more than one page (Bolognese, 2002, p. 12-15) or Bolognese (2002) claims, “.....” (P. 12-15).
3. If you are just borrowing an idea from a text then simply write author’s last name and year of publication. E.g., Bolognese, (2002) states....

4. For quotation containing more than 40 words, indent and single-space the whole quotation.
5. If you have more than one author. For the first time, write last names of all authors and year of publication. For second time text citation, use Cobb et al., (1995)...
6. If you are supporting a claim with more than 2 references, then quote authors in an alphabetic order after your claim. E.g., (Hinings& Greenwood, 1988; Lewis, 2002; Prochaska&Prochaska, 1999; Vallas, 2003; Zell, 2003).

Levels of Heading:

- CENTERED UPPERCASE HEADINGS Level 5
Centered Uppercase and Lowercase Headings Level 1
Centered, Italicized, Uppercase and Lowercase Headings Level 2
Flush Left, Italicized, Uppercase and Lowercase Side Heading Level 3
Indented, italicized, lowercase paragraph heading ending with a period Level 4

Appendix III

Guidelines for in class Discussions

1. Everyone who is here has the right to be here and to participate. Everyone who is here brings experience and knowledge that makes their participation valuable.
2. Everyone has the right to be silent, i.e. "To pass" in answer to a question. Remember that some topics may be more difficult or painful for some than for others.
3. Be aware of how your participation affects the participation of others. Your words, your tone of voice, your body language, the amount that you talk, all affect others.
4. Remember that people's experience and knowledge vary. What you hold most dear may not be obvious or of value to others, and vice versa.
5. Actively listen. Reflect back to people what they are saying, even as you state your position.
6. Speak for yourself. Avoid speaking for others. Use "I" statements: "I think . . ."
7. Ensuring that everyone can participate is everyone's responsibility. Preventing someone from participating impoverishes the education of all.

Appendix IV

The following are just some of the sources that could be useful for your project. They are, of course, in addition to your textbook.

Periodicals

- 1) Business International Corporation's Business Asia (BA), Business China (BC), Business Europe (BE), Business Eastern Europe (BEE).
- 2) Economist Intelligence Unit's Investing, Licensing and Trading Conditions Abroad (for each of Africa, Asia, America, Europe)
- 3) Economist Intelligence Unit's Financing Foreign Operations (by country)
- 4) The Economist (weekly magazine)
- 5) Journal of International Business Studies - academic
- 6) Far Eastern Economic Review

Newspapers

Financial Times (of London) - excellent

Toronto Globe and Mail Report on Business

Wall Street Journal

The Toronto Star

Please Note: there are other sources of information than the Internet. Don't make the mistake of limiting your research to this o