2.0 PREREQUISITES

BUSI 3005 (with a grade of C- or better)

The Sprott School of Business enforces all prerequisites.

Precludes additional credit for BUSI 2005.

3.0 COURSE DESCRIPTION

An intensive review of federal income tax laws and regulations as significant elements in the planning and decision making process of taxable Canadian corporations. Emphasis on the tax planning function of corporate management and the associated accounting and reporting aspects.

This course deals with federal income tax laws and regulations and their impact on a corporation's financial and business decisions. Problems, issues and planning associated with the Income Tax Act are discussed as well as computations of taxable income and taxes payable by individuals, corporations, partnerships and trusts.

4.0 COURSE OBJECTIVES

Accountants cannot make intelligent business decisions without first considering the tax implications of the various alternatives. An understanding of Canadian taxation is therefore necessary in order to make those decisions.

BUSI4005 is the second of two introductory courses (with BUSI3005) in income tax law which are designed to achieve the following objectives:

- (1) to explain the theoretical concepts behind the specific provisions of the law,
- (2) to apply the law in practical problems and case settings,
- (3) to interpret the law, considering the specific wording of the provisions, judicial decisions and the Canada Revenue Agency's (CRA) position, and
- (4) to introduce basic tax planning concepts through case application.

This taxation course is an introduction to tax principles and practices. The focus of BUSI3005 is on fundamental principles and personal income tax. The focus of BUSI4005 is on corporate income tax and some specialized topics.

5.0 METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

The format of the course consists of one 170-minute class meeting per week. Due to time constraints not all chapter material will be covered in class. Students are responsible for the entire content of each chapter of the textbook as well as all additional topics discussed in class, except those areas specifically excluded by the instructor.

Class sessions entail a mixture of lecture, case study, problem analysis, and class discussion. The content of any lecture presumes and expects you have carefully studied the assigned reading. Lectures emphasize major topics and readings, yet you are responsible for all assigned materials. It requires active learning, which means that the student must take responsibility for the learning that takes place. You must be prepared for each class by completing the assigned problems and readings. You are encouraged to ask questions and to stimulate discussion on topics that you have difficulty understanding.

6.0 GRADING SCHEME

Your grade for the course will depend on both individual work and group work outside of the class, and classroom contributions, as outlined below:

Participation	10%	(see section 6.1)
Assignments	40%	(see section 6.2)
Final exam*	50%	(see section 6.3)
Total	100%

In order to pass the course, a grade of at least 45% must be obtained on the Final exam in addition to the other requirements.

 Satisfactory In-term Performance

- 1) The requirement for Satisfactory In-term Performance is set at 50% of all pre-final term work (i.e. participation, quizzes and assignments)
- 2) Unsatisfactory In-term Performance in this course will lead to Failure in this course (regardless of the performance at the Final exam))

6.1 Individual Class Participation

Class participation is highly encouraged. The intent is to have a very interactive class. Students are expected to contribute to class discussions on a constructive and regular basis. Much of your learning will occur during class and case discussions. Points will be awarded for contributions to the class which include asking thoughtful questions, helping to understand complicated ideas, suggesting reasonable alternatives, and being willing to try out new ideas. Participation may include occasional announced and unannounced quizzes.

Self-study problems in the textbook will provide the student with additional opportunity to practice the course material

6.2 Assignments

Four (4) assignments will be assigned throughout the course. Each assignment will be worth 10% of the total marks. They may be completed individually, or in groups of two to three students. If completed in groups, only one assignment per group should be submitted. The cover page must include a statement signed by each student, indicating that each group member has contributed to the assignment and has respected plagiarism rules. The content of each assignment will be posted on the course website.

Hand-in Assignment at the beginning of each class to the instructor. If it is not handed-in before class begins, it will be considered late and subject to a 100% PENALTY.

NO LATE ASSIGNMENTS WILL BE ACCEPTED. MAKE-UP ASSIGNMENTS ARE NOT PROVIDED.

Graded assignments involve both technical aspects and judgment aspects. Consequently, the grading of these cases and problems has both objective and subjective components. The course instructor is committed to providing you with adequate feedback on subjective components of your grades. Additional feedback from your instructor is always available through consultations during scheduled office hours or by arrangement.

Be sure to keep a copy for yourself of all assignments and reports submitted.

6.3 Final Exam

A three-hour Final Exam will be scheduled during the period December 10 to 22, 2021. The final date and time are to be announced. Material covered during the entire term is examinable on the final examination. No books or papers shall be permitted in the examination room. A Tax Appendix with various information will be provided by the instructor as part of the final exam.

The only valid excuse for missing an exam is for medical reasons or a death in the family and must be documented with a medical certificate. Any other reason (such as travel, etc.) will not be considered. In such circumstances, separate arrangements may be made. If you miss a deadline for a reason that is not deemed as legitimate, your mark will be zero.

8.0 STUDENT PREPARATION

8.1 Background

Each course module contains readings about tax concepts and issues. The content of any lecture presumes and expects you have carefully studied the assigned read

8.2 Homework Cases and Problems

Students learn technical tax materials best when they have to apply them, rather than listening to lectures. Therefore, you should expect to solve problems every week. Some of the cases and problems are for self-study; solutions are provided. Some of the cases and problems will be important preparation for the class discussions. You can't expect to become a professional esports athlete by only watching esports online. It's the same thing with taxation.

8.3 Aids to Assist with Questions Raised by Cases and Problems

These aids may take many forms. Usually there will be a list of hints to help you get started. Sometimes, there will be supplemental readings. Other times, the aids will direct you to one of the campus or local libraries to use computer databases or other reference materials to find the information you need to help you solve the cases or problems.

8.4 Suggested Approach

You could look at your study habits with the following questions:

- Have you read the chapter before the lecture?
- Have you prepared your questions before attending classes?
- Have you attended class as an active learner and participant?
- Have you prepared for class as per your instructor directives?
- Have you tried to solve the recommended problems/cases?
- Have you compared your personal solutions with the solutions?
- Have you tried to understand the materials by discussing it with colleagues?
- Have you consulted your instructor with your problems?

9.0 CONDUCT

Professional conduct is built upon the idea of mutual respect. Such conduct entails (but is not necessarily limited to):

- Attending the class.
Each class benefits from the attendance and participation of all students. Your grade for participation will be affected by absences.
- Arriving on time.
Late arrivals are disruptive to both lectures and class discussion, and show disrespect to those who are on time.
- Minimizing disruptions.
You should not leave and re-enter the class. You should avoid engaging in side conversations after class has begun.
- Focusing on the class.
While you may take notes on laptops, do not use laptop computers or hand-held devices for other tasks while in class.
- Being prepared for class.
You should be ready to discuss any assigned readings and to answer any assigned questions for each day's class, including being ready to open a case assigned for that day.

- Respect.
You should act respectfully toward all class participants. Class participation grading reflects student adherence to these principles; students gain credit for contributing valuable insights and students lose credit if they fail to adhere to any of the above guidelines.

10.0 ATTENDANCE POLICY

Regular class attendance is important and required. I expect you to attend class and contribute to a quality discussion. Class and team discussion of the materials (e.g., readings, assignments, and cases) are an important part of the learning process. If circumstances prevent attendance at a class meeting, please remember that you are responsible for all materials discussed, handouts distributed, assignments covered, and announcements made.

11.0 CHANGES TO THE SYLLABUS

A syllabus is a tool to help you plan your time. Every effort is made to make the syllabus as complete as possible, but there may be occasions when changes are required. The instructor will announce any deviations from the syllabus in class and the change will be posted on the course web page.

Group work

The Sprott School of Business encourages group assignments in the school for several reasons. They provide you with opportunities to develop and enhance interpersonal, communication, leadership, follower-ship and other group skills. Group assignments are also good for learning integrative skills for putting together a complex task. Your professor may assign one or more group tasks/assignments/projects in this course. Before embarking on a specific problem as a group, it is your responsibility to ensure that the problem is meant to be a group assignment and not an individual one.

In accordance with the Carleton University Undergraduate Calendar (p 34), the letter grades assigned in this course will have the following percentage equivalents:

A+ = 90-100	B+ = 77-79	C+ = 67-69	D+ = 57-59
A = 85-89	B = 73-76	C = 63-66	D = 53-56
A - = 80-84	B - = 70-72	C - = 60-62	D - = 50-52
F = Below 50

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

If you have a documented disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact the Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation or contact your PMC coordinator to send your instructor your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term. You must also contact the PMC no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with your instructor as soon as possible to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. carleton.ca/pmc

Survivors of Sexual Violence

As a community, Carleton University is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working and living environment where sexual violence will not be tolerated, and its survivors are supported through academic accommodations as per Carleton's Sexual Violence Policy. For more information about the services available at the university and to obtain information about sexual violence and/or support, visit: carleton.ca/sexual-violence-support

Accommodation for Student Activities

Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. Reasonable accommodation must be provided to students who compete or perform at the national or international level. Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. <https://carleton.ca/senate/wp-content/uploads/Accommodation-for-Student-Activities-1.pdf>

For more information on academic accommodation, please contact the departmental administrator or visit: students.carleton.ca/course-outline

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another's ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized co-operation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated.

Process: If an alleged violation occurs, all relevant documentation will be forwarded to the Dean. If the allegation proves true, the penalties may include; a grade of Failure on the submitted work and/or course; academic probation; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; suspension from full-time studies; suspension from all studies at Carleton; expulsion from Carleton, amongst others.

For a first offence, at a minimum, the penalty assigned will normally be a zero on the submitted work and at least a minimum full grade reduction of the final course grade. For a second offence, at a minimum, the penalty assigned will normally lead to a suspension from studies.

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at: <https://carleton.ca/registrar/academic-integrity/>.

Sprott Student Services

The Sprott Undergraduate Student Services Office offers program advising and overall student success support. Our team is available to discuss your academic goals and your program progression plans. We can also work with you to develop strategies for success, including study skills for Business. If you experience any difficulty this term or if you would like to access support, please contact our team at bcom@sprott.carleton.ca or at bib@sprott.carleton.ca.

Centre for Student Academic Support

The Centre for Student Academic Support (CSAS) is a centralized collection of learning support services designed to help students achieve their goals and improve their learning both inside and outside the classroom. CSAS offers academic assistance with course content, academic writing and skills development. Visit CSAS on the 4th floor of MacOdrum Library or online at: carleton.ca/csas.
