Course Description

This course introduces Federal income tax laws, regulations, and their impact on an individual's financial and business decisions. Both the potential issues for individuals and planning associated with the Income Tax Act are discussed. Overall, the end goal is the efficient and effective computation of taxable income and taxes payable for an individual in Canada.

Course Objectives

Accountants cannot make intelligent business decisions without first considering the tax implications of the choices. An understanding of Canadian taxation is therefore necessary to make those decisions.

BUSI 3005 is the first of two introductory courses (with BUSI 4005) in income tax here at Sprott that, when taken together, are designed to achieve the following objectives:

- 1) To explain the theoretical concepts behind the specific provisions of the law,
- 2) To apply the law in practical problems and case settings,

- 3) To interpret the law, considering the specific wording of the provisions, judicial decisions and the Canada Revenue Agency's (CRA) position, and
- 4) To introduce basic tax planning concepts through case application.

This course is an introduction to tax principles and practice. The focus of BUSI 3005 – Taxation I is on fundamental principles and personal income tax. The focus of BUSI 4005 – Taxation II is on corporate income tax and specialized topics.

Prerequisites

BUSI 2001 – Intermediate Accounting I (with a grade of C- or higher)

This course is a prerequisite to:

BUSI 4005 – Taxation II (with a grade of C- or higher)

Precludes additional credit for: BUSI 2005 – Income Tax Fundamentals

Method of Instruction

For the fall of 2021, this course will be delivered following the outline below:

This is a flipped classroom. This means that you will be watching videos I have recorded on the course material (10-minute lectures) on your own. We will meet once a week to work through problems together in class based on the previous week's materials. We will also use our time together to go over any concepts that, perhaps, need a bit more clarification.

Here is how your weeks should look for the fall term:

Tuesdays – Saturdays: Study!

- Students are to use the plan laid out in the previous Monday's class to work through the videos and problems on their own.
- I will post a "Weekly Memo" each week to fully lay out what is expected and what order the work should be done in.
- I cannot stress this enough, keeping up on readings and the material is crucial in this course. Each week builds on the previous weeks' content, so if you fall behind, you will continue to do so and find yourself in trouble by the midterm. Keep up. Do the work. You will be fine.
- Any questions you have, please post to Brightspace in the discussion board, bring them to "class" or send me an email.

Sundays: Quiz time

- There will be a weekly quiz in this course, held online using Brightspace, reviewing the previous week's material. It will be due by Sunday at midnight each week.

Mondays: Problems, problems, problems

- 90-minute(ish) session Section A – 8:35 am – 10:05am; Section B – 11:35 – 1:00 pm
- Those of you attending in person, I will see you in AT 301.
- Those of you who are not able to attend in person, a Zoom link will be posted to Brightspace; please register for your own section and attend in your own section.
- Note – I will NOT be recording these sessions, and attendance will be taken for a participation grade.
- During this session I will go over several problems and answer any questions students have on the materials from the week.
- If you have done the work during the week, that is watched all the videos, completed all the problems etc., this session should be a review/study session. If you keep up, you will surely get more out of this session than simply attending and copying down answers.

Course Videos – The “lectures”

- I put a lot of thought into how to deliver this course online last fall. I created videos for all of the material in roughly 10-minute segments. Students this past fall agreed that it made it much easier to digest the material this way, rather than sitting through a 180-minute lecture each week. Therefore, I am keeping the videos now that we are back on campus. We will then spend our valuable time together working through problems and applying what you have learned. A far better use of your time.
- Students are responsible for watching the videos, digesting the content, and contacting me if there is anything they do not understand. Do NOT fall into the trap of thinking because you watched the video you understand the material and are “done”. We can all tune out, have distractions, and simply watch a video without really watching it.
- During the lecture videos, I will give you examples to work through on your own. I cannot stress enough how important it is for you to take the time to try and solve these questions and examples on your own. Try. Try without looking at the solution. That is the only way you are going to learn.

Students are responsible for the entire content of each chapter of the textbook assigned, as well as additional topics discussed in class, except for those specifically excluded by the instructor.

Class sessions entail a mixture of lecture, problem solving, case study, group work, and discussion. The content of any lecture presumes and expects you have carefully studied the assigned reading. Lectures emphasize the major topics and readings, yet you are responsible for all assigned materials. It requires active learning, which means students must take responsibility for the learning that takes place. You must be prepared for each class and practice the learned material after class. You are encouraged to ask questions and stimulate discussion on topics you have difficulty understanding.

Grading Scheme

Weekly Quizzes	10%
Individual Case Studies	10%
Group Assignments (4)	20%
Midterm – 120 minutes (Monday, November 1 st , 6:00pm)	20%
Final Exam – 3 hours (during formal final exam period)	40%
	100%

Individual Case Studies – 2 opportunities – 10% of total grade

I have titled this part of your evaluations, “Your desperate client.” When you have long left Sprott in your rear-view mirror and are out at your firms helping clients, living the dream of being a CPA, you will no doubt come across a client who needs an answer NOW. We have all faced them, and perhaps you are facing them already in your co-op terms. These individual case studies will be based on this concept.

Twice during the term, you will be sent an email from me, your desperate client. In the email I will tell you to go to Brightspace and access your question from your client. The case will be available for 12 hours, however, once you open the file or start the “quiz” on Brightspace, you will only have 30 minutes to type in your response. You will type directly into Brightspace, and then post your solution.

These are to be done individually, and students will be sent questions at random. You do not know when your client is going to email. You do not know what they are going to ask. You probably will not get the same question at the same time as your friends. When will they email? Who knows?! You need to be prepared to answer your desperate client.

I know I am being a bit cheeky but try not to stress this component. If you have been keeping up with your readings and practice problems, then this will be very easy. It is meant to keep you on your toes a bit, but even more so it is meant to ensure you are keeping up with the work.

Weekly Quizzes – 10% of total grade

Quizzes will be posted each week in Brightspace under their own folder. There will be one per week and, if you have done the readings and watched the videos, you will find them very easy. There are 10 in total, I will throw out the lowest grade, I will count the top 8 grades, meaning you can throw out your two lowest marks.

Worksheets/Quizzes will be posted Sunday mornings at 8:00 am EST and will close by 11:59 pm EST of the same day and will cover the previous weeks' material.

Quiz	Chapters	Worksheet/Quiz Due
1	Chapter 1	September 12 th @ 11:59pm
2	Chapters 2 & 14	September 19 th @ 11:59pm
3	Chapter 3 – part I	September 26 th @ 11:59pm
4	Chapter 3 – part II	October 3 rd @ 11:59pm
5	Chapter 4	October 10 th @ 11:59pm
6	Chapter 5	October 17 th @ 11:59pm
7	Chapter 6	October 22 nd @ 11:59pm
8	Chapter 7 – part I	November 7 th @ 11:559m

10	Chapter 8	November 21 st @ 11:59pm
11	Chapter 9	November 28 th @ 11:59pm

NOTE – Classes begin on September 8th, and you are expected to start this course at that point. Your first quiz is due Sunday, September 12th, meaning you need to get going right away. Get your textbooks and get started.

Also – note that for Quiz 7, the due date is not a Sunday but rather the Friday before our Fall Break.

Group Assignments – 4 in total – 20% of total grade

The assignments will be due on the following dates by 11:59pm:

Assignment #	Chapter Coverage	Due Date
1	1, 2, 14	September 26 th
2	3, 4	October 15 th
3	5 & 6	November 5 th
4	7 & 8	November 26 th

Note – Chapter Coverage may change based on how quickly we are moving through the course material. However, the due dates will stay firm.

The assignments are to be done in groups of 2-3 students. Late assignments will NOT be accepted. Make-up assignments are not provided.

Once you have your group members decided, you can email me with your group listing. 2-3 people maximum. If you want to be in a group but do not have a group, let me know and I can pair you up with someone else looking (no guarantees!).

Also, I will accept “groups” of 1 if you are a lone wolf and like to go solo. Just email me and let me know that as well.

Please, email your groups by September 16th at the latest.

Midterm and Final Exam

The midterm and final exam will test both the technical and conceptual aspects of the course.

For both the midterm and the final exam you will have the option to write in person on campus or online. Note that if you decide to write online your exam will be written using Carleton’s e-proctoring service. That is, it will be online, but you will be monitored by proctors for the entirety of the exam. For more information on Carleton’s e-proctoring services, see the attached link: <https://carleton.ca/ses/wp-content/uploads/Live-e-Proctoring-Guide-for-Students-v.-1.0413.pdf>.

The midterm will be held on Monday, November 1st at 6:00pm. The mid-term will cover Chapters 1 – 5 and Chapter 14. It is a closed-book exam. More details on the midterm will be given as we move towards its date.

The only valid excuse for missing the mid-term is for medical reasons or death in the family and must be documented with a medical certificate. Any other reason (such as travel, etc...) will not be considered. In such circumstances the make-up mid-term will be held on Monday, November 8th, from 06:00 – 08:00am. If you miss the make-up midterm for any reason, your grade on the mid-term will be zero, i.e. there will be no make-up-make up mid-term and it is not possible to transfer the weighting to the final exam.

The final examination will be held in the regular examination period. The duration of the exam will be 3 hours. The final examination will cover the whole course. You need to obtain a minimum of 45% on the final exam to pass this course. Again, this exam will be closed book and cumulative in nature.

Marking

The assignments and exams will be marked by the teaching assistants and myself together and follow a rigorous quality control process that reasonably assures that the grade awarded is fair. However, no system is 100% error free, so it is possible that you may wish to call into question a grade that has been awarded to you.

For each assignment, and the midterm exam, you will be provided with a marking rubric in electronic format (Excel). It will contain the correct solution and highlight where you lost marks.

If you feel that there is an error in your grading, please write a brief note describing the difficulty with the awarded grade and provide this note, together with the graded test/assignment and a copy of the rubric you received, to the instructor no later than seven calendar days following the date the assignments/tests were handed back. Please be sure to include your name and student number on the note to enable us to properly identify it.

Brightspace

Brightspace is an integral part of the course. Much course related material and information will be found here. As well, this will be the key point of communication between you and me. Please check it regularly.

Student's Responsibilities with regards to deadlines

It is your responsibility to ensure that you meet (1) the quiz dates, (2) the assignment deadlines, (3) the mid-term date and time, and (4) the final exam date and time. It's as easy as entering these in your calendar on your smart phone or paper agenda. If you send me an e-mail asking me for any sort of accommodation on any of the above, I will reply in the negative.

When you register for this course, you are doing so on the assumption that you are fully available during the final exam period that runs from December 12-23, and are available to write the mid-term Monday, November 1st at 6:00pm. I will not accommodate any requests to write the mid-term or final exam early or late.

Conduct

Professional conduct is built upon the idea of mutual respect. Such conduct includes (but is not limited to):

1) Attendance & Punctuality

Doing well in the course is highly correlated to your attendance. I will do my best to make the on-line sessions of value to you, and in turn, I expect you to bring your energy and good attitude with you to each and every class. If circumstances prevent attendance, please remember that you are responsible for all materials discussed, problems covered, and announcements made.

2) Other Disruptions

This is a very broad category, and includes leaving and re-entering the session (although I understand that there are times that this is a necessity). Side conversations are discouraged, however, talking to the class as a whole, is encouraged. Texting, other cell phone use, internet surfing or completing other classwork while in class is a poor use of your time. Unfortunately, humans are not as good at multitasking as we would like to believe.

3) Being Prepared

You should be ready to discuss any assigned readings and to answer any assigned questions for each day's class. Please refer to the course below, as well as any in-class announcements to know what is expected from you at each class.

Contribution to Learning Goals of the Program (BCom, BIB):

This course moves fast and each week builds on the previous weeks' materials. In order to have success, you must come to class or watch the videos, prepared to work, and work along with me while we are going through the material. There simply is no other way. For most of you, the material we will be covering will be brand new, and the concepts are probably not ones you have considered. Therefore, do not think that you can "teach yourself" by cramming before the midterm or final. There is simply too much to get through.

Keep up with the work in the Weekly Memos. Come to class regularly, keep up with assignments and homework and you will find success.
