Course calendar description from 2019/2020 graduate calendar:

Conflict, negotiation and bargaining. The bargaining process, conflict handling and how to analyze, plan and implement successful negotiations. Management and labour objectives and strategies that lead to conflict.

Course Description:

This course provides a space for exploration of theories and research relating to bargaining and negotiation in a range of professional contexts. Students will have opportunities to practice and develop bargaining and negotiation skills in business, employment, and public disputes involving regulatory approvals and community stakeholder negotiations.

By the end of the course, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate an ability to understand and critically evaluate popular theoretical understandings, of negotiation and bargaining.
- Produce scholarly work that engages with a variety of disciplinary perspectives on negotiation and bargaining as forms of conflict resolution.
- Critically understand influences and impacts of intersecting dimensions of power and social location (such as race, gender, socio-economic status, religion, sexuality etc.) on bargaining and negotiation tactics, strategies, and outcomes.
- Effectively perform appropriate conflict resolution skills and techniques in the context of simulated bargaining and negotiation role plays.

Course Prerequisites:

Textbook(s):

Bromwich, Rebecca and Harrison, Thomas, Negotiation and Conflict Resolution in Criminal Practice: A Handbook (Toronto: Canadian Scholars Press: 2019).

Fisher, R., Patton, B., & Ury, W. Getting to Yes: Negotiating Agreement Without Giving In (Rev. ed.). (New York: Penguin Books, 2011)

Drop Course Policy:

The deadline for academic withdrawal is the last day of classes (each term).

Grading Scheme:

Paper	40%
Simulation Participation	20%
Final Group Project	40%
<hr/>
TOTAL	100%

Term Paper:

Individually, students will produce and submit a research paper on a topic relating to conflict and negotiation. A rubric and more detailed instructions will be posted on CU Learn. Papers are due before midnight on the final day of class. All papers are to be submitted via CU Learn.

Group Project:

In groups, students will present an analysis of a historical negotiation. Details of this project will be distributed via CULearn and discussed during the first week of class. Presentations will take place on the final week of class.

Marks will be based on the following:

- ☑ depth and breadth of understanding of the topic;
- ☑ quality and creativity of the presentation design, including materials and execution;
- ☑ relevance to the workplace; and,
- ☑ extent to which class is engaged

Simulation Participation:

Class participation, especially in negotiation simulations, is imperative in this class. Students will be evaluated on their participation. Evaluation will be done through a combination of the Instructor’s observation and students’ self evaluation. Details of the self-evaluation will be posted on CU Learn. All self-evaluations are to be submitted via CU Learn.

Final exam date:

Please note there is no scheduled final exam in this class. Evaluated items are due before midnight on the last day of class.

Preparation and participation:

You are responsible for the learning environment in this course. This is a seminar style course in which students prepare in advance for class, take the lead in discussions, and fully participate in group work and simulations. I, as your instructor, play the role of facilitator, setting out some learning goals and helping you, through structured questions and occasionally filling in gaps. You are expected to read assigned material before coming to class. You will take turns in helping to lead the discussion. You will be actively engaged in simulations, and a key part of your learning will be through your reflection on what is happening in class, and relating the class discussions and simulations to assigned readings. Everyone is expected to participate on a regular basis, and attendance in class is very important. Only by participation in class discussions combined with advanced preparation can you expect to obtain maximum benefits from the course.

Be sure to retain a paper copy of all work you submit.

Communication with Instructor:

Students with questions or problems during the term are encouraged to make an appointment with the Instructor. It is most effective to communicate with the instructor by e-mail. When you do, please send from your Carleton account, and always put "MGMT 5111" in the subject line. The Instructor will respond to e-mails within 3 to 4 days.

cuLEARN

This course will make extensive use of the cuLearn course management system. cuLearn provides a facility whereby a course website is maintained, allowing me to provide you with links to relevant readings, to post course notes, commentary, and assignments, and to provide you with access to your grades. It is absolutely essential that you regularly check the cuLearn site for the course. cuLearn is accessible through the Internet from off-campus or through the University's computer labs, using compatible web browsers. The URL for cuLearn is <http://culearn.carleton.ca>. cuLearn can be accessed using your MyCarletonOne account, with the same ID and password.

Missed assignments:

All items of evaluation must be submitted for a student to obtain a passing grade. Students must communicate with the Instructor should they require accommodations for any late assignments. Permission may be granted when the absence is supported by a medical certificate and or appropriate document/s to support the reason for the deferral.

Group work

The Sprott School of Business encourages group assignments in the school for several reasons. They provide you with opportunities to develop and enhance interpersonal, communication, leadership, follower-ship and other group skills. Group assignments are also good for learning integrative skills for putting together a complex task. Your professor may assign one or more group tasks/assignments/projects in this course. Before embarking on a specific problem as a group, it is your responsibility to ensure that the problem is meant to be a group assignment and not an individual one.

In accordance with the Carleton University Undergraduate Calendar (p 34), the letter grades assigned in this course will have the following percentage equivalents:

A+ = 90-100	B+ = 77-79	C+ = 67-69	D+ = 57-59
A = 85-89	B = 73-76	C = 63-66	D = 53-56
A - = 80-84	B - = 70-72	C - = 60-62	D - = 50-52

Requests for Academic Accommodation

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request, the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation

Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist.

For more details, visit the Equity Services website: <https://carleton.ca/equity/wp-content/uploads/Student-Guide-to-Academic-Accommodation.pdf>

Religious obligation

Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist.

For more details, visit the Equity Services website: <https://carleton.ca/equity/wp-content/uploads/Student-Guide-to-Academic-Accommodation.pdf>

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

If you have a documented disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact the Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation or contact your PMC coordinator to send your instructor your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term. You must also contact the PMC no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with your instructor as soon as possible to ensure accommodation arrangements are made.

Survivors of Sexual Violence

As a community, Carleton University is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working and living environment where sexual violence will not be tolerated, and its survivors are supported through academic accommodations as per Carleton's Sexual Violence Policy. For more information about the services available at the university and to obtain information about sexual violence and/or support, visit: <https://carleton.ca/sexual-violence-support/>

Accommodation for Student Activities

Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. Reasonable accommodation must be provided to students who compete or perform at the national or international level. Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. <https://carleton.ca/senate/wp-content/uploads/Accommodation-for-Student-Activities-1.pdf>

For more information on academic accommodation, please contact the departmental administrator or visit: students.carleton.ca/course-outline

Academic Integrity

Violations of academic integrity are a serious academic offence. Violations of academic integrity – presenting another's ideas, arguments, words or images as your own, using unauthorized material, misrepresentation, fabricating or misrepresenting research data, unauthorized cooperation or collaboration or completing work for another student – weaken the quality of the degree and will not be tolerated. Penalties may include; a grade of Failure on the submitted work and/or course; academic probation; a refusal of permission to continue or to register in a specific degree program; suspension from full-time studies; suspension from all studies at Carleton; expulsion from Carleton, amongst others. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with and follow the Carleton University Student Academic Integrity Policy which is available, along with resources for compliance at: <https://carleton.ca/registrar/academic->
